

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

ONE YEAR $2.00 SINGLE COPY 5 CENTS

ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS, SEPTEMBER 22, 1922

VOLUME XXXV NUMBER 50

TELL VACATION EXPERIENCES

Beautiful Lantern Slides Recalling Scenes of Summer Outings Shown at Meeting of Andover Natural History Society.

One of the best meetings of the Andover Natural History Society was held Tuesday evening in the lecture room of Pynchard, when several of the members gave accounts of their vacations which were spent at the seashore and in the mountains.

The meeting was opened at 8 o'clock with Omar P. Chase, the president, presiding. The report of the last meeting was given by Mrs. F. M. Foster, after which the meeting was open for the members.

Some very interesting pictures on trips were shown by stereopticon, and the first picture, taken shortly before her death, was that of Miss Charlotte Helen Abbott, who during her lifetime was a devoted member of the society. The picture was taken of Miss Abbott while she was on an auto trip, and was very good. It brought back to memory all her interesting characteristics, and lively enthusiasm for the society's work.

Some pictures taken by Kenneth Foster on his automobile trip from California to the east this last summer were shown: pictures of the Arizona desert, a Hopi Indian house and a view of the grand canyon of the Colorado. Views of Gloucester harbor and the fishing boats were also shown.

Warren L. Johnson had a number of his summer residence in Nova Scotia, and the scenery near the Bay of Fundy. He said that there were only nine days of good weather during his stay there this summer and some of the pictures showed the fog that sweeps in from the Bay at intervals.

After the pictures were shown, others of the gathering told interesting stories of their summer trips. Edwin T. Brewster told of an acquaintance he made on the Cape of a German Roman Catholic priest, who is making of his home garden in Wellfleet a wonderful old world garden. He is having loam carted to his place and planting the garden with the flowers that will make the best showing, and is converting a sand hole into a thing of beauty.

Mrs. Mary S. Jackson, recently returned from Europe, had a very entertaining story to tell of her trip to England and France. She visited many of the well known cities in

(Continued on page 3, column 4)

ANNUAL INSTALLATION

Officers of the Courteous Circle, King's Daughters of the South Church, Installed at First Business Meeting of Year.

The annual business meeting and supper of The Courteous Circle, King's Daughters of the South Church, was held Monday evening in the vestry of the church.

The newly painted walls and woodwork made a fine appearance and the tables which were set for fifty were decorated with fall flowers, purple asters and daisies, and crepe paper of the King's royal purple, made up an effective color scheme.

The soft light of candles added much to the dainty service of the supper which was delicious, served by Mrs. Joseph Higginson and Mrs. Ralph Hadley of the social committee. The menu consisted of cold ham, scalloped potatoes, relishes, green peas, rolls, coffee, cake and pies.

After the table had been cleared the business meeting was held. The report of the secretary was read by Mrs. L. M. Huntress; the treasurer's report by Mrs. F. L. Cole and the different committees were represented by the following: Miss Florence I. Abbott for the Devotional committee, Mrs. F. H. Higginson for the social committee, Miss Ella Holt for the remembrance committee, Miss C. Madeleine Hewes for the Sunshine committee, Mrs. V. D. Harrington for the friendship committee and Mrs. J. Harold Melledge for the conveyance committee.

Miss Ethel A. Hitchcock, who has been leader for several years resigned this year much to the regret of the members. The following officers were installed by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow during a short consecration service in which he told the members of their high privilege in being chosen by the King for his service: Leader, Mrs. V. D. Harrington; vice leader, Mrs. Chester D. Abbott; recording secretary, Mrs. L. M. Huntress; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. H. Foster; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Gibson; auditor, Miss Jennie S. Hunter.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

William Rea who has been ill at his home is reported improving.

Mrs. Harry Noyes picked a beautiful branch of apple blossoms last week from a tree in her yard.

George Collins of the Andover Press is enjoying a week's vacation, visiting friends in Rhode Island.

John A. Collins of the fire station has been having two weeks' vacation and will return to his duties tomorrow.

Rev. David E. Adams of Farmington, Maine, will be the speaker at both morning and afternoon services at the Phillips Academy Chapel on Sunday.

Miss Sarah E. Bodwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Bodwell of Morton street, Abbot 1922, has entered Connecticut College at New London, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Temple and family have returned to their home at 228 Highland road after spending the summer at their summer home "Oldhams," Chatham, Mass.

The quarterly meeting of the Andover Christian Endeavor union will be held in the South Church next Monday evening. Rev. George F. Beecher of Lawrence will be the speaker.

Miss Catherine Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Weeks of Walcott avenue, left Wednesday for Norton, where she will attend Wheaton as a member of the entering class.

William B. Higgins of Chestnut street was operated on for appendicitis last week Friday at the Lowell hospital. His many friends will be glad to know that he is rapidly recovering.

Box 4 was sounded Wednesday afternoon at 1:40 calling out the chemical to a blaze in a truck that was stalled near Shawheen turn-out. The owners of the truck put the fire out before the chemical arrived and there was practically no damage.

Combinations one and two were called out Tuesday night about seven o'clock to a fire in Remick's coal pocket on Railroad street. Some kindling-wood was ablaze but the fire was put out with little damage. Box 542 was rung in.

The members of the senior class of Pynchard High School are planning for a dance to be held in the school hall on September 29. This is for all the school members who care to come and will be a good time for the new scholars to get acquainted.

Clan Johnston members are planning to hold a concert in the town hall on November 24, when the John Daniels company of Boston which put on the Cotter's Saturday Night a year ago will be the entertainers. This year's offering will be "A Night in a Scottish Home."

The members of Mrs. Freeman Abbott's sewing and auxiliary members who are raising money this fall for the organization, will hold moving picture day on October 4. There will be a special picture of interest at the local theater, with a matinee for children in the afternoon. Tickets are now on sale.

The Annual X. B. K. Convention which was such a successful event in Andover last year will be held tomorrow afternoon in Methuen and all members of the four chapters of Andover are urged to be present if it is humanly possible. The plans for the convention call for the transaction of much important business, and the decisions reached will tend to affect the course of the fraternity's development for many years to come. There will be a business meeting in the afternoon from 2:30 to 6:15 and a banquet at 6:30 followed by speeches and entertainment. The First Congregational Church of Methuen will be the scene of the convention.

Andover Golfers in the Limerick James A. Eaton of Central street and John F. O'Connell of Walnut avenue have both been prominent in the golf of the past week. Both players are well along in the Annual Championship tournament of the Merrimack Valley Country Club, Eaton already arrived at the semi-finals and O'Connell ready to play Dr. Hatch of Lawrence for a chance at his fellow-townsmen later in the match. The O'Connell-Hatch match will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Eaton, who was a regular member of the Harvard golf team during the last season, and who has been playing a very fine brand of golf throughout the summer, came up against Clark Hodder, runner-up in the state amateurs, at the Woodland three-day tournament yesterday, and forced his college mate out of the running by a 2-1 victory. He will play against Eddie Lowery in the semi-finals this morning. Lowery is completely at home on the Woodland course, but Eaton is ready to give him a heavy rub for the win.

FOR 1 WEEK

- 25c Italian Macaroni . . . 35c
- 35c Hawaiian Pineapple . . . 25c
- No. 10 cans Grated Pineapple 45c
- 35c Grape Juice, pints . . . 25c
- 35c Ripe Olives . . . 15c
- 50c Libby Asparagus, tall . . 35c
- 35c C. & M. Fruit Syrup . . 25c
- 12c Jersey C-Flakes . . . 60c
- 15c Tomato Ketchup, 2 for . . 25c
- Crystallized Ginger, box . . 45c

J. H. Campion & Co.
ANDOVER

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Miss Harriet Reynolds of School street is employed in O. P. Chase's paper store.

Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith of the Andover Townsman office is having a week's vacation.

Miss Virginia Ramsdell of Summer street is working in the Memorial hall library afternoons.

The annual sale by The King's Daughters of the South Church will be held on Friday, October 6.

Miss Emma M. Lincoln of Pittsfield is visiting her aunt, Miss Emma J. Lincoln of Summer street.

Miss Gertrude A. Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin of Woodland road, Abbot 1922, has entered Wellesley college.

Twenty-eight members of the Andover Rebekahs journeyed to Lawrence last night to witness the installation in the Ruth Rebekah lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Holt and Miss Edith Donald were week-end guests of Miss Myra Church of Lawrence at her summer home, Cape Neddick, Maine.

Phillips Brooks chapter, X. B. K., of Christ church met in the parish house last evening to form plans for attending the annual fraternity convention in Methuen Saturday.

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow performed the ceremony at the wedding of Miss Bessie H. Hale of Lowell and Caleb F. Rogers of Barre, Mass., which took place Saturday evening in Lowell.

Miss Anna Franklin and Benjamin Franklin, guests at the Foster-Franklin wedding, have returned to their home in Ovid, New York, after spending two weeks in town visiting their brothers John and Charles Franklin.

Phillips Academy Buys Land

Phillips academy has just acquired by purchase the 32 acres of land belonging to the Pearson estate and located to the south of the school grounds, beyond Brothers Field. The nature of the land is such that it can be readily divided into additional playing fields, and it is probable that much of this will be used ultimately for athletic purposes.

Partis

September 17, 1922, a son, Harold George, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson of 90 High street.
September 12, 1922, a son, Louis Roy, to Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Dearborn of 64 Pleasant street, North Andover.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Miss Frances Keany left Andover today for Vassar College.

W. D. Currier of Maple avenue is on a business trip through Maine.

Miss Ellen Painting, of Boston is visiting Miss Florence West and Mrs. Herbert Carter this week.

William Dalton, of Chestnut street, left Monday to take examinations preparatory to entering Bates College.

Miss Jessie Arenburg, who is employed at the Phillips Inn, was a winner of one of the Post prizes for stories last week.

Mr. Austin S. Hitchcock of Brooklyn, N. Y., is spending two weeks at the home of Miss Ethel Hitchcock on High street.

Miss Rachel Boutwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop S. Boutwell of West Andover, leaves this week for Mt. Holyoke college.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sawyer have returned from a vacation spent at Kesar Falls, Maine, where they visited Mr. Sawyer's brother.

John A. McClellan of South Main street was one of the Andover boys to enter the Lower Middle Class at Phillips Academy, last week.

Mrs. Edwin Nicoll and children, Betty and Donald Nicoll of Arlington Heights, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicoll on Whittier street.

Malcolm Young of East Blue Hill, Maine, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wright in West Andover and will attend the Pynchard High school.

Miss Minerva Ramsdell, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Ramsdell of Summer street, left today for Northampton where she will begin her college course at Smith College.

Mrs. John R. Bacon of Pine street, has returned from an extended tour of the Pacific coast country, where she has been visiting friends. Mrs. Bacon has been a stranger to Andover since the last of May.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason S. Carl, Miss May Carl, and Miss Bessie Carl of Waterboro, Maine, and Miss Hazel Carl, of Huntington avenue, Boston, were week-end guests of Miss Ellis Holt at her home on Maple avenue.

Kindergarten Notice

Those wishing to enter pupils in Miss Johnson's Kindergarten, opening on Monday, October 9, will please address 20 Salem street or telephone Andover 375.

SELECTMEN REFUSE PETITION

Turn Down Request of Colonial Filling Stations Inc. After Much Opposition Appears at Hearing in Town Hall Monday.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Many Friends Join in Helping Andover Couple Celebrate Passing of Half Century of Married Life. South Church Presents Purse.

A number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Minor on Main street Monday, to offer them congratulations and best wishes on their fifty years of married life. Gifts of flowers from the South Church societies, cards, letters and telegrams from out-of-town friends, made the day a memorable one, although the couple held no formal celebration.

At the regular Wednesday prayer meeting of the South Church the anniversary was specially recognized by the parish. Rev. E. Victor Bigelow made a few appropriate remarks upon the couple's successful completion of fifty years of married life, and Miss Mabel Carter sang two solos. Mr. Bigelow presented them with a handsome purse of money made up by the church members, and Mr. Minor expressed his gratitude for the thoughtfulness of their gift in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor were married September 18, 1872, in New Haven, Conn., where they both resided at that time. After the wedding they lived in New Haven for several years, Mr. Minor being connected with a crockery firm in that city.

They came to Andover in 1879 and have made their home here ever since. During their residence they have made a wide circle of friends, and both have become members of the South Church and active in its interests. They are both members of the Andover Historical Society, the society rooms with the collections of relics being situated in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor have three children:

After a lengthy and well-formed debate before the selectmen at a meeting Monday afternoon in the court room of the Town hall, it was decided after considerable deliberation, that the petition of the Colonial Filling Stations Inc., to erect a gasoline filling station on the corner of Main street and Hidden road, be refused and the petitioners be given opportunity to withdraw. The opposition to the erection of the filling station was very strong, not only in the vicinity of the proposed location but elsewhere in the town.

The meeting was held at 4 o'clock in the court room, which was filled with interested persons, who had come to either approve or condemn such a granting. A petition signed by sixty-three residents of that section of the town protesting against the erection of a filling station, carried much weight.

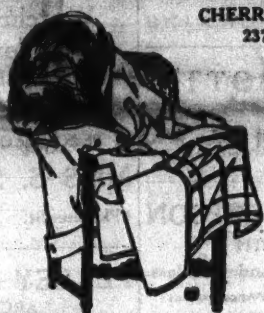

Selectman Walter S. Donald opened the meeting by reading the petition, and it was then open for discussion. The first speaker was F. A. Taylor of Wakefield, an employee of the corporation, who is engaged in finding new and convenient sites for filling stations for his firm in the different cities and towns of New England. He presented in a very courteous way his side of the case, saying that it was an entirely reliable company with which the town would have to deal, an old, sound Boston institution. Mr. Taylor claimed that the sidewalk pump was dangerous and inconvenient, and that the trend of the times was for filling stations where nothing but gasoline would be sold. He described how the building would look if erected and showed plans and pictures which were very attractive. He said that no noise or odor from the place. The building was to be of reinforced concrete, octagonal in shape, with ample driveway for entrance and exit, and if erected would add to the taxable value of the property of the town. The corporation proposed to hire local help.

The meeting was held at 4 o'clock in the court room, which was filled with interested persons, who had come to either approve or condemn such a granting. A petition signed by sixty-three residents of that section of the town protesting against the erection of a filling station, carried much weight.

(Continued on page 6, column 1)

(Continued on page 5 column 4)

SPECIAL
SALE
NOW IN PROGRESS

CHERRY & WEBB CO.
237-241 Essex St.
Lawrence
Mass.

Plaid Back Great Coats

GREAT FOR COMFORT
GREAT FOR STYLE

THEY HAIL FROM BONNIE SCOTLAND WHERE TO EVERY CLAN, IT'S PLAID. OVER HERE,
EVERY PLAID IS BEING TAKEN UP BY THE CLAN OF FASHION-ABLE WOMEN.

$29.75

Cherry & Webb Co.

237-241 ESSEX STREET LAWRENCE, MASS.

FOR SALE

A 12-room house, with barn and large lot of land. Very centrally located.
An 8-room house, all improvements, garage and good sized lot. In one of the best locations in Andover.

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

SAMUEL P. HULME

Real Estate and Insurance

CARTER'S BLOCK Telephone 572 ANDOVER

Quality Furs and Fine Leather Goods
FURS REPAIRED and REMODELED

WEINER'S - 265 ESSEX ST., LAWRENCE

Saturday Special
Orange Pineapple Ice Cream
P. SIMEONE & CO.
PUBLIC TELEPHONE WAITING ROOM
MUSGROVE BLOCK Phone 8505 ANDOVER

Thoughtful Saving

Nobody goes wrong unless he has been thinking wrong.

Right Thinking will lead to THRIFT and then to SAVING.

In your thinking don't overlook the merits of a MUTUAL SAVINGS BANK.

Last Dividend at the rate of 5%

ANDOVER SAVINGS BANK

A Ten Minute Look

at your chimney may save you looking at the ruins of your home.

Make sure that your chimneys are safe before starting your fall fires.

1828-Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co.-1922
BANK BUILDING, ANDOVER, MASS.

The Coal Strike will be over one of these days--get your order booked now.

It looks now as if something would be done to settle it soon--it will be hard to get Coal after it is over. The wise people are booking their orders now, for future delivery.

CROSS COAL CO.

MAIN STREET Telephone

TO-MORROW

TO-MORROW will take care of itself if you let it do so--but are you sure that it will be to your liking?

Would it not be prudent to look forward and do your part to see that TO-MORROW does not bring worry and unpleasantness?

A little ready money oftentimes turns seeming defeat into success.

It is the wise person who does not put off starting to save.

ANDOVER NATIONAL BANK
ANDOVER, MASS.
MEMBER OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

STUDEBAKER
New Prices

Effective August 1st, 1922

Studebaker plants, representing the investment of $38,000,000, operating at capacity, produced 80,000 cars the first six months this year, and broke all records. Although we have on hand unfilled orders of 16,000 cars, we believe our manufacturing savings should be shared with our customers, and hence the following price reductions are hereby announced:

MODELS	New Prices	Old Prices	Reductions	MODELS	New Prices	Old Prices	Reductions
Light-Sixes				Special-Sixes
Chassis	$ 785	$ 875	$ 90	Touring	$1,275	$1,475	$200
Roadster	975	1,045	70	Coupe	1,275	1,475	200
Touring	975	1,045	70	Sedan	2,050	2,250	200
Coupe-Roadster	1,225	1,375	150	Big-Sixes
Sedan	1,550	1,750	200	Chassis	1,900	1,900	200
Special-Sixes				Touring	1,450	1,750	300
Chassis	1,000	1,300	300	Coupe	1,725	1,925	200
Roadster	1,250	1,425	175	Sedan	2,275	2,400	125
4-Door Roadster	1,275	1,475	200		2,475	2,700	225

The quality of Studebaker cars has not been decreased one iota. On the contrary, they are better than ever. You can depend upon the performance, durability, comfort, and quality of Studebaker cars, and the integrity of their makers.

STUDEBAKER CORPORATION OF AMERICA
South Bend, Indiana, August 1st, 1922.
THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

Come In and See New Model 1923 FORD

ONE MAN TOP

SLANTING WINDSHIELD

LARGER SEATS

On Display

A. A. ROESCH

FORD SALES and SERVICE

MUSGROVE BUILDING ANDOVER, MASS.

SHOES ALL SIZES SHOES

Men's Women's Children's

NEW AND REBUILT SHOES AT LOW PRICES
Prompt and expert repairing of all kinds at reasonable pricesB. GOLDSTEIN 16 PARK STREET,
ANDOVER, MASS.

Desirable House Lots

IN

ANDOVER

The last of the Theological Seminary Property located on Morton Street is offered for Sale at Attractive Prices and under restrictions to secure high grade Development.

For Terms and Prices Apply to Andover Realty Company

PHILIP P. COLE, Agent

TOWNSMAN OFFICE, ANDOVER

BACKUS OPEN FIREPLACE

All Comfort All Warmth

The Most Scientific Heater

In Use Today

NO TROUBLE NO DUST NO ASHES

DEMONSTRATED AT OFFICE

Lawrence Gas Company

THEATRES

ANDOVER COLONIAL THEATRE

Friday, Sept. 22
Alice Joyce in "The Sporting Duchess."
"The Trail of the Law."
Saturday, Sept. 23
Irene Castle in "No Trespassing."
"The Timber Queen," Episode No. 7.
Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 25-26
George Arliss in "Dissol." Betty Compton in "Over the Border."
Wednesday, Sept. 27
John Gilbert in "Arabian Love."
"Robinson Crusoe," Episode No. 10.
Thursday, Sept. 28
Wheeler Oakman in "Son of the Wolf."
Pearl White in "The Broadway Peacock."
Friday, Sept. 29
Alice Calhoun in "Closed Doors."
"Silver Spurs."
Saturday, Sept. 30
Robert McKim in "A Certain Rich Man."
"The Timber Queen," Episode No. 8.

LAWRENCE COLONIAL THEATRE

Ye Colonial Players will be seen in one of David Belasco's greatest successes next week—"The Lily." This is a play of unusual dramatic worth, and the four acts are literally filled with wonderfully dramatic situations. The play is being carefully staged under the close supervision of Director Bernard Steele, and an elaborate performance is expected.

The story is an interesting one. George A. Naud, an artist, not happily married, is an artist in an abby once owned by the monks. There he meets Count DeMaigney's daughters, Christine and Odette, and they begin a two-weeks season of Shakespearean and Classic Plays, at the Shubert Boston Opera House. The following repertoire will be given during the engagement: "King Lear," "Richard III," "Macbeth," "Merchant of Venice," "Hamlet," "As You Like It," "Romeo and Juliet," "Julius Caesar," "Othello," "King John," and "Richard III."

Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton's "Richelieu" will open the season on Monday night, with Mr. Mantell in the title role. Who does not know the story which deals thrillingly with the conspiracy which sought to overthrow the French government of the cardinal-minister and destroy the power of France as a nation; and the familiar story of Richelieu's guardianship of the lovely Julie de Mortmar—how his nimble wit foils his enemies and snatches his beautiful ward from the evil designs of King Louis? As Ju! Miss Hamper is true to life.

For Tuesday evening of the first week of the Boston engagement, "Hamlet" is announced. It is more than twenty-five years since Mr. Mantell began his portrayal of the role of "Hamlet" and it is doubtful if any of the long line of Shakespearean tragedians of bygone years ever gave a more finished rendition of Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

Wednesday Matinee, September 27th, "As You Like It" is scheduled. That one line from the epilogue "My way is to comfort you," holds in a nutshell, the truth about Miss Genevieve Hamper as Shakespeare's most fascinating heroine. The quiet humor of "Jacques" is played with distinction by Mr. Mantell: his reading of the famous "All the world's a stage" speech is clear-cut and dramatically brilliant. "Julius Caesar" on Wednesday evening gives Mr. Mantell opportunity to rise to his greatest heights in the role of Brutus where, in the tent scene, in the quarrel with Cassius he demonstrates the nobility of the character he depicts. Miss Hamper, as the heroine, in her appeals to Brutus, the husband, to has provided a musical comedy revue, in which the various members will apply to general pulchritude by even a Ziegfeld, who will enhance the various dance and song numbers.

PLYMOUTH

Thurston, the internationally famous magician, is playing a three-week engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, with his most pretentious production, the second week beginning Monday, September 25th.

This season the master necromancer is being supported by a staff of twenty-seven ultra-efficient assistants and he is carrying a train load of special scenery and mechanical effects, together with a good-sized menagerie, containing over one hundred birds and animals.

Several of Thurston's new features, which are brand new, are acknowledged to be the most baffling as well as the most artistic deceptions ever presented. One of the modern miracles, "Ancient Chinese Sorcery," represents the investment of several thousands of dollars and three years of experimentation. In spite of this large outlay of time and money, the performance of the feat takes up less than two minutes. There will also be another very timely and extremely interesting feature, "Do the Spirits Return," this season which is, indeed, a most fascinating and bewildering demonstration. After witnessing this part of Thurston's program a group of well-known New York Spiritualists recently openly proclaimed the magician to be a genuine materializing medium. Several of these noted psychics occupied position on the stage within a few feet of the cabinet during the "seance," which almost frightened the wits out of a famous newspaper woman and a Metropolitan police-woman who were members of the seance committee.

The following is a partial list of this season's most prominent mysteries: "The Beautiful Witch," "The Vanishing Camel," "The Famous Hindoo Rope Trick," "The Radio Mystery," "Fairy Queens from Ireland," "Beautifying by Magic," "Conan Doyle, Outdone," "Removes Magic Columns," "The Triple Conundrum," "The Mysterious Fountain," "Spiritualistic Materializations," "A Glimpse of Hereafter," "The Supernatural Lion," "Mephisto's Visit" and "Ancient Chinese Sorcery."

For the past decade Thurston has enjoyed the distinction of being rated as one of the strongest drawing cards appearing before the American public and from present indications this will be his most prosperous season. His ever-increasing popularity is due to the fact that in addition to being the greatest living magician he is also a showman par excellence. His programs always have a compelling universal appeal to people of all ages and all classes.

The management respectfully suggest that Thurston's regular patrons avoid possible disappointment by reserving their usual seats at once.

HOLLIS STREET

Next Monday evening the Hollis Street Theatre will open its doors for the season. At the initial attraction the management has secured from Sam H. Harris the sparkling comedy "Nice People," by Rachel Crothers, which delighted the theatregoers of New York for more than a year and then ran for six months in Chicago to capacity audiences.

In the performance of "Nice People" Mr. Harris will present as a star the clever young comedienne, Francine Larrimore, an artist of unusual ability and charm. Miss Larrimore, has not acquired her fame over night. Schooled in stock dramatic companies and then matured by several seasons' work in prominent productions, her art has been rounded and finished by experience and intelligent endeavor. In this comedy of Rachel Crothers she has demonstrated her right to a prominent place among the younger stars of the American stage.

"Nice People" is one of the brightest comedies that has been produced in some time. It has for a basic theme the conflict of modern unconventionalism with that sense of propriety which, according to the advocates of the old social order is fast disappearing. It depicts the manners of our "Smarter Set," the girls who smoke cigarettes, drink cocktails and ignore the necessity of a chaperone. The climax comes when the leader of her set, Teddy Gloucester, the role played by Miss Larrimore, motors far into the country with one of her admirers, becomes stormbound over night with him and when her father demands that she marry him, refuses and decided to "live her own life" until her father becomes more tolerant of her new social customs.

Miss Larrimore is charmingly cast as the spoiled and willful little girl, who smokes and swears as nonchalantly as a boy until her eyes are opened by a sincere young man who stakes his all on winning her love.

Sam H. Harris has provided a splendid company of players for the support of Miss Larrimore and the play is richly mounted with scenery and costumes.

The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

Seats are now on sale.

DONALD MCKAY of Ye Colonial Players, Lawrence

he falls in love. The count has never allowed his daughters to see men, and the experience they now undergo are quite new and thrilling. When the count discovers that Christine is interested in the artist he punishes her.

But it happens that his son also has a love affair, this with Lucie Clock, the daughter of a well-to-do cotton merchant. This gives the count something to think about, and he soon learns that his plans provide an altogether too narrow outlet for his healthy children, and the end sees things running as is proper.

Nance O'Neil played the role of Odette, the elder daughter, in the original production, and Miss Maud Blair will play that part next week. Miss Lenita Lane will play the part of the other daughter, Charles Dingle will be seen as the artist, Frank Charlton as the count, and Walton Butterfield will have the role of the vicomte Maximilian DeMaigny, the son of the count.

"The Lily" will prove a worthy successor to "East Is West" which, by the way, will finish its engagement on Saturday, and another big week's business is looked for. Seats may be secured a week ahead, and those who desire to be sure of reservations should make them as early as possible.

Andover people who have enjoyed the Sunday afternoon concerts at the Colonial Theatre, Lawrence, the past four seasons will be glad to learn that they are to be offered again this year.

Announcement comes that a course of three concerts will be given on the course ticket plan and subscriptions are invited. The person who buys the course ticket will not only save a considerable money but will have the choice of seats and the same seat for each concert.

The artists being presented in the course are Jascha Heifetz, violinist, Sophie Braslau, contralto, and Reinald Werrenrath, baritone. All are new to Lawrence concert audiences, but none is unknown as an artist.

Heifetz, the wonder violinist, whose fee for this season is $2,500 or $1,000 more than Fritz Kreisler received for his most recent Lawrence appearances, will open the course on Oct. 22. This will be the opening concert of his 1922-23 tour.

Sophie Braslau, a great favorite with concert goers and generally regarded as the best contralto now doing concert work, will come on Nov. 19. Her concert will be the opening event of Music Week in Lawrence, a week which last year provided much enjoyment for Andover music lovers as well.

Reinald Werrenrath's concert is set for January 14. He is in as big demand as ever this season. His work has been steadily upward and just now he is at the peak of his artistry. He has not sung in Lawrence since the time when, as soloist, he appeared with the now defunct Choral Society.

The sale of season or course tickets will begin next Saturday at the Colonial Theatre box-office. Mail orders are being filled now.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

Robert B. Mantell and Genevieve Hamper return to Boston after an absence of three years; on Monday evening September 25th,

"Make me acquainted with your cause of grief" is tempered with a gentle solicitude born only of an inherent sympathy.

"King Lear" is Thursday's attraction. This play is not only a masterpiece of poetry, but it is also a play with a theme which grips and thrills and carries through during climaxes to a stupendous finish. Lady Macbeth as interpreted by Miss Genevieve Hamper, runs the gamut of human emotions in her desire to wear the bejeweled crown. Especially in the sleep-walking scene is Miss Hamper impressive.

"The Merchant of Venice" on Saturday afternoon, and "Julius Caesar" on the evening will close the first week's repertoire.

MAJESTIC

These are the days of big things, so far as concerns the theatrical world, and no one realizes the force of this argument with greater appreciation than does Jos. M. Gaite, who has always been accustomed to make his productions in a manner to meet the most progressive ideas.

With the same assurance he gave concerning his present unequivocal success, "Take It From Me" and "Up in the Clouds" now on tour, and his amazing dramatic sensation, "The Monster," now playing at 39th Street Theatre, New York, Mr. Gaite now offers another sparkling musical comedy entitled "Gimme A Thrill," as the Shubert vaudeville unit at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, for the week of September 25th.

This latest play of Mr. Gaite contains every element requisite to please the most exacting theatre-goer, tinkling tunes, an abundance of clean comedy, startling gowns envelope stunning girls and all delivered to you in a delightful manner.

Among the clever entertainers who will appear are the famous Carver Trio, who have danced their way into the hearts of all America, and who have just closed an engagement of four years with that three-ring circus of musical comedy, "Take It From Me," in which they were the featured principals. Felicia Sorel and Sonia Gluck were the outstanding hit in the "The Pin Wheel Revue" all last season, and their sensational as well as artistic dancing will prove a veritable thriller.

That funny Hebrew comedian Gene Barnes will present his side-splitting skit, "A Pressing Engagement." Herbert and Baggett comedians de luxe will make the world all the brighter, Byron & Langdon need no introduction, their screamingly funny "The Dude Detective" the "Top Four," late of Mitsi's "Lady Billy" Company stand pre-eminent as America's leading quartet in popular melodies, Nanine and DeFaye with their talking dog will present a decided novelty and Peggy Hope, assisted by Charley Chase will delight you with her charming personality and magnetism.

In addition to the above artists who will appear, Mr. Gaite just for good measure

Awarded Certificate

Seldon L. Billington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Billington of Highland Wayside, and John R. Frederickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederickson of Highland road, both seniors at Funchard, have received certificates in the practical electricity course conducted at the Lawrence Y. M. C. A., under the direction of the department of education of this state.

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

Mrs. Ruth McKay Staples

LADIES' HAIRDRESSING

AND MANICURING PARLOR

Musgrove Bldg. Tel. 611-M.

DANA W. CLARK

CIVIL AND MECHANICAL ENGINEER

Engineering Problems and Surveys handled separately and promptly

NORTH ESSEX DISTRICT

36 York Street, Shawmut Village

TELEPHONE 355-M

ANNIE S. LINDSAY

GILLESPIE METHOD

OF SCALP TREATMENT, SHAMPOOING,

AND WAVING

Hours 9-12 1-5 every day but Wed

Tel. 18

Carter Block, Main Street, Andove

GERTRUDE FRASER

Parlarian Hairdressing Parlor

Shampooing, Manicuring, Novel Waving

Facial and Scalp Treatment

Violet Ray Treatment

Tel. 601

CARTER BLOCK, ANDOVER

DR. ABBOTT

Office and Residence

70 Main Street - Andover, Mass.

DR. WM. H. SIMPSON

OSTEOPATH

Musgrove Block Andover, Mass.

Office Hours: 9-5 and By Appointment

Telephone 300

M.B. McTernan, D.M.D.

DENTIST

Carter Block Andover, Mass.

Office Hours: 8:30 to 12: 1:30 to 5

Closed Wednesday Afternoons

DANIEL J. MURPHY

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

222-225 Bay State Bldg., Lawrence

Telephone 231

Town Counsel of Andover

C. J. STONE

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Musgrove Block

Office Hours, 9:30 to 5 p.m., 7:30 to 9 p.m.

E YOUR VISION

is keeping you back have your eyes tested and add to your comfort by wearing our glasses.

THE BLACKSHAW

JEWELRY STORE

A. F. RIVARD, Registered

Optometrist

36 Main Street

Near the Town Hall

ANDOVER - - MASS.

HARDWARE

For the Garden is our specialty, and we have,

of course, an extra large stock of it at this time of the year.

Lawn Mowers Rakes Hoes

Pruning Shears Wire Cloth

Chicken and Poultry Wire

Garden and Lawn Seeds

WALTER I. MORSE

Telephone 103

KODAKS

H. F. Chase

Main Street - Andover, Mass.

Telephone 385-M

J. E. PITMAN

LUMBER-CONTRACTOR-REPAIRS

Plumbing, Steam, Hot Water and Pipeless

Furnace heating. Also Painting, Paper

Hanging

Paper furnished to order.

REAR 63 PARK STREET

J. W. RICHARDSON

CARPENTER and BUILDER

Shop 6 A Park Street

Home Address, 50 Whittier Street

Telephone 134-M

Arthur N. Comeau

Carpenter and Builder

HIGHLAND ROAD, ANDOVER

Telephone 160-M

Telephone Connection

Everett M. Lundgren

Funeral Director and Embalmer

Auto Equipment

Personal attention given to out-of-town service

Elm Street - Andover, Mass.

License in Massachusetts and New Hampshire

Horace Hale Smith

ENGINEER

North Essex District, Massachusetts

Bay State, Lawrence, Tel. 5050

Lupine Rd., Andover, Tel. 195W

SIGN WRITING GRADING

OLD FURNITURE REBUILT

HOLDEN BROS.

PAINTERS and PAPER HANGERS

Shop, Park Street Telephone Connected

CHLOREDIXO

TOOTH PASTE

LOWE - DRUGS

JOHN FERGUSON

Watchmaker and

Jeweler

MUSGROVE BLOCK ANDOVER

TEACHER OF PIANOFORTE

MISS S. S. TORREY

4 Florence St. - Andover, Mass.

PERLEY F. GILBERT

ARCHITECT

Room 107 Main St., Andover

Office, Central Block, Lowell

Andover Tel. 408-M Lowell Tel. 658

D. L. WADE

55 Park St. - Andover, Mass.

Chairs Repaired

Cane or Rush Bottom

DROP A POST CARD AND WE WILL CALL.

PRACTICAL CHIMNEY SWEEP

FREDERICK BROWN is only name.

For sweeping chimneys, I have fame

From top to bottom, you need not fear

I sweep them clean, I'm not too slow

33 PIER PLAZA

Residence, Highland Road,

Address Post Office

Charles F. Emerson

(Successor to R. B. Tuttle)

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING and JOBBING

Office 33 Park Street, Tel. 240

Residence, 72 Park Street, Tel. 562-11

PHILIP L. HARDY

BRICK WORK

and

CONCRETE CONTRACTOR

DEALER IN

Lime, Brick and Alpha Cement

Granolithic Sidewalks a Specialty

TELEPHONE 405

ANDOVER - - MASS.

FRESH CANDY

The original Saturday Candy 39c

special this week at

We also carry a full line of Cynthia

Sweets, Durand's, and Paged Shaw's

Franklin H. Stacey

Pharm., D., Ph. C.

The Prescription Store

Musgrove Bldg., Andover, Mass.

The FAMILY SHOE STORE

Better Shoe Service Than Ever

This store from the beginning has stood for a kind of service different from the general run.

We have specialized in moderate shoes in a different way.

The difference has been that our assortments have always been as great, our styles as pleasing, and our selling as intelligent as if we were running a no-limit-to-price-store.

People appreciate this kind of store—the volume of our business proves that.

And this store, which has tried never to descend to a mis-statement or over-statement, says that it is ready to give better shoe service than ever this year.

Come in and get acquainted with our new shoe styles now. Buy when you are ready.

Specializing in Men's and Women's Shoes at $5.50 to $8.00 a pair.

We take pains to get a painless fit.

The Family Shoe Store ANDOVER

Telephone 51-M

Expert Operators

Jeannette's Beauty Shop Marcel Waving

Manicuring
Shampooing
Facial and Scalp Treatment

Dyeing and Bleaching
Violet Ray Treatment
Hair Goods Made to Order

Essex Street Opp. Post Office Andover, Mass.

"Made to Walk on"

Johnson's Floor Varnish is unequalled for soft and hardwood floors, linoleum and oilcloth. It gives a beautiful, high lustre—is very easy to apply and has good body. Dries dust free in two hours and hard overnight. Has great elasticity—is absolutely waterproof and very pale in color. Will stand all reasonable tests.

JOHNSON'S FLOOR VARNISH

Johnson's Floor Varnish is tough and durable. It gives a beautiful, high gloss which will not chip, check, mar, blister or scratch white. Johnson's Floor Varnish is splendid for use on tables, chairs, wood-work, trim, etc. It will rejuvenate the whole interior of your home. Johnson's Floor Varnish is of the same high quality as Johnson's Floor Wax.

Sold and Recommended by
Walter I. Morse

INTERESTING MEETING

(Continued from Page 1)

England, saw the beautiful lakes of England and Scotland; went through Westminster Abbey, and Scott's home in Abbotsford, and took in the famous places in Paris, notably the Louvre.

Rev. Harry S. Low, who has been with his mother in California, told of the beauty of that part of the country, and what great boosters for their state the people are. He said that, though he had a very pleasant time while out west, he liked the east just as well.

Stories of Martha's Vineyard were also told and several of the members had a word to say of the amusing signs they saw along their trips. There were 27 members present at the meeting.

Old Document on Slavery

An interesting document was unearthed in the South church records recently by George S. Minor, in regard to the views taken by the church during slavery times before the Civil war. It has been the general opinion that several members of the church at that time were not opposed to slavery, and that other members through the urge of their ardent feelings against this curse to humanity separated from the church and founded the Free Christian church in 1844. This document is taken from the records of February 17, 1842 and was written by advice of the pastor at that time, Dr. J. L. Taylor. It is as follows:

"The pastor then for reasons which he explained in full presented for consideration of the church the following resolutions which he proposed to have adopted as an exposition of our common views on the subject of slavery.

"First: Resolved that slavery as it exists in our country is inconsistent with the principles of liberty and equality which we profess to cherish and contrary to the spirit of the Gospel; dangerous to our prosperity as a free people; a reproach to our name and an inexcusable wrong to those it holds in bondage.

"Second: Resolved that those of our country men that hold our fellowmen in servitude for selfish ends, treat them as mere property, compel them to toil without wages, disregard and misuse their domestic relations, keep them in involuntary ignorance; deny them the right of searching for themselves the sacred oracles; subject them to such inhuman treatment and gross sin against God from which they ought in all cases immediately to cease.

"Third: Resolved that while we feel bound to treat all members of Christian churches with brotherly kindness and affection, receiving them as Christ hath received us, nevertheless we cannot as men or Christians continue this sin whether committed by them or by others nor are we willing in any way to connive at it nor apologize for it nor give it our fellowship. On the contrary we abhor and deprecate it as an unmitigated evil and we cherish as alike the dictates of humanity and religion the liveliest sympathy for all who have been made to suffer by it.

"Fourth: Resolved that though we differ, some of us widely, as to the best way of manifesting our feelings on the subject, we are not at all on that account less hearty in our opposition to the sin itself, nor do we feel answerable to each other or to any one else for the course which we consider it our duty to pursue so long as we infringe on no obligation of our mutual covenant and violate no precept of our common faith.

"Thereupon the (the resolutions) all passed with unanimity. It was then voted that the resolutions be published under the direction of the pastor.

This throws a new light on the opinions of that time and one which many of neither the South church nor the Free church members knew anything. The churches now work in close harmony but the dividing line was rather sharp in those days.

Missionary Sunday

Next Sunday in the Free church Sunday School the classes will observe Missionary Sunday. A large attendance is looked for and a special collection will be taken.

Camp Fire Girls Meeting

The regular business meeting of Waukegan council of Camp Fire Girls was held on Monday evening at the home of Miss Carita Bigelow. Miss Teresa Proctor was elected secretary and Miss Harriet Cheney treasurer of the council and each member was urged to be prompt in the payment of her dues.

A ceremonial meeting will be held at Miss Bigelow's home on Saturday evening and three girls will be initiated into the rites of the council.

Tuesday several of the girls went to Wellesley college under the direction of Miss Bigelow and were shown over the buildings. Those who went were Miss Muriel Gilbert, Miss Nettie Pritchard, Miss Ruth Pritchard and Miss Harriet Cheney.

COLONIAL THEATRE LAWRENCE

Third Week of BERNARD STEELE'S New Company
Ye Colonial Players

Beginning Monday Evening, Sept. 25, and All the Week

DAVID BELASCO'S
Famous Dramatic Romance of Life in Present Day Paris

"THE LILY"

EVENINGS AT 8.....25c, 35c, 50c, 75c TAX
MATTINEES DAILY BUT THURSDAY.....15c, 25c, 35c /PAID
Order Seats By Phone 70. Park Cars on Methuen St.

WEEK OF OCTOBER 2

THE IRISH SINGING COMEDY DRAMA
"IRISH EYES"

AMERICAN INCENSE

Odors from Forest and Field

35 CENTS PER BOX

Lemon Verbena
Rose Geranium

Orange Blossom
Violet

June Rose
Lavender

INCENSE BURNERS

Indian Boy Wall Burner....$1.50 Hiawatha and Minnehaha $2.00
Fire Worshipper Burner....$2.00 Indian Spirit.....$1.50
Egyptian Burner.....$5.00 Buddha......50
Rose, Blue & Green Burners $1.50

Andover Bookstore Gift Corner

Dr. Scudder Resigns

Dr. Doremus Scudder, executive secretary for the Greater Boston Federation of Churches, has resigned his position, and is preparing to go with his family to southern California. The move was taken after consultation with his physician, who recommends a long season of quiet and mental repose. Although Dr. Scudder has made remarkable recovery from exterior wounds and bruises caused by an automobile accident at Williamstown on August 2, his nervous system remains in a somewhat shattered condition. The executive board of the federation has accepted the resignation.

Dr. Scudder has been the head of the Greater Boston Federation for the last two years. For twenty-two years he was engaged in the Far East, first as a medical missionary in Japan, and later as minister, and a superintendent of all missions in the island of Hawaii. He is one of the few churchmen who hold both titles of M. D. and D. D.

Because of his long association with the Far Eastern people, he has become a leading authority on Japanese and Chinese questions. Should health return to him in California, as he confidently believes it will, he hopes to devote the remainder of his life in helping to solve the knotty problems of the Orient.

The vacancy left by Dr. Scudder will be filled as soon as the right person is found. In the meantime the publicity secretary will act in that capacity, assisted by Mrs. Grace P. Reed, Dr. Scudder's secretary. A farewell banquet to Dr. Scudder is being arranged by the directors, with Rev. Frank Kingston as chairman of the committee.

Dr. Scudder married Miss Isabelle Bowler, a former teacher at Abbot academy, and both are well known in town, where many friends will wish him a speedy return to health.

Passion Play

Of Dr. Bowler's illustrated lecture on the great Passion Play of Ober Ammergau which he gives in Lawrence City Hall October 5th, the New York Sun had the following comment:

"Robbed of his usual flow of humorous anecdotes by the restriction of the subject, Dr. Bowler rose to a height of true reverence and sympathy in his recounting of the famous spectacle. As with all his lectures, it was the clarity and singleness of impression made upon the audience that marked it different from other speakers. An indefinable something expressed commonly as personality, so permeates his work that, in hearing what he has to say, whether it is a story of burning sands of the desert or a tale of city splendors, the message is indelibly recorded."

Alfred Robb Installed Tanist

Cian Johnston met Friday night in Garfield hall, John Elder, chief, presiding. Alfred Robb was elected tanist to succeed George Fyffe, resigned, and was installed to his office by Past Chief Thomas Thin. Tanist Robb has held office before and is an active worker in the order.

Plans were made for the whist tournament which will begin at the next meeting. There are enough members enrolled to insure four teams for the bowling league. Games will be rolled on the Essex street alleys on Saturday nights.

A visit will be made to Cian McPhail of Wakefield but no definite date was decided upon.

Philatelic Class Social

The Philatelic class of the Baptist church held a social in the vestry of the church Friday evening, and told how a dollar may be earned in various ways. The stories were amusing and enlightening and proved a source of fun for the listeners.

During the summer each member of the class has earned a whole dollar prospective of her weekly pay envelope that the man of the house brings in. The proceeds will go toward the Philatelic class fund.

The first business meeting of the season will be held the first Friday in October, when plans for the year will be set forth.

Those present Friday evening were Mrs. Charles Stone, Mrs. George Dutton, Mrs. Mary Borneman, Mrs. Fred Swanton, Mrs. William Davidson, Mrs. Bertha Brown, Mrs. Alexander Crockett, Mrs. Miles Ward, Mrs. Clare Norton, Miss Lena Lundgren, Mrs. Edward Ward and Mrs. Wallace Ward.

Examination for Postmaster

Application for the office of Postmaster, which will be vacant following the expiration of the term of Postmaster John H. McDonald, on October 1, must be made on or before October 17. While there is no actual civil service examination in connection with the position, and the office is filled by the President, the candidates are chosen through the organization of the civil service commission, and must be recommended by that commission before they are liable for appointment.

Miss M. W. Burt at the Andover Post Office is the local secretary and is in a position to furnish information to those desiring to make application for the appointment. Andover is a second class Post Office and the position of Postmaster carries with it a salary of $3000.00.

Changes in Prices of Savings Certificates

Postmaster McDonald wishes to announce that effective October 1st the prices at which Treasury Savings Certificates have heretofore been sold will be advanced.

On account of the continued increase in value in Liberty Bonds, as well as the general advance in all investments, and the gradual decline in interest rates, the Government has decided to reduce the rate of interest paid on Treasury Savings Certificates to a basis of 4% compounded semi-annually.

On and after October 1st these securities will be sold as follows:

$25 maturity value for $20.50
$100 maturity value for $82.00
$1000 maturity value for $820.00

These securities mature five years from the date of issue and being registered are absolutely safe-guarded against the dangers of loss by fire or burglary. They also have the advantage of being bought at a minimum price which increases automatically each month the certificates are held. Provision is made for their redemption before maturity if desired, in which case the interest yield is about 3% on the investment.

Postmaster McDonald states that until October 1st he can sell Treasury Savings Certificates at present prices which will yield the purchaser an income of 2 1/2%, an every dollar invested during the five year period to maturity. This will doubtless be the last opportunity to purchase a government security paying such an attractive rate of interest for many years to come.

Postmaster McDonald will be glad to furnish full information and to fill all applications.

PURE MILK

SELECTED TABLE EGGS
DELIVERED DAILY,
DIRECT FROM THE FARM

ARTHUR H. SANBORN
Overbrook Farm, Andover
Tel. 221-W.

LADIES' HAT SHOP

3 BARNARD ST.

ANDOVER CHURCHES

CALENDAR FOR COMING WEEK

SOUTH CHURCH

Central Street

Congregational. Organized 1711

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, Pastor

10.30. Morning service. Sermon by the minister.
12.05. Church School.
6.30. Christian Endeavor.
7.45 Wednesday. Midweek service.
2.30 Thursday. First meeting of the season for the women's sewing department.

WEST CHURCH

Congregational. Organized 1836

Rev. Newman Matthews, Pastor

10.30. Public worship with sermon by the pastor.
12.05. Sunday School.
7.00. C. E. meeting at the parsonage.
7.45 Monday. Bi-monthly meeting of Andover C. E. Union at South Church.
7.45 Wednesday. Meeting for prayer and conference.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY CHAPEL

"On the Hill"

9.30. Sunday School in Peabody House.
10.30. Morning service. Sermon by Rev. David E. Adams of Farmington, Maine.
5.15. Vesper service. Speaker, Mr. Adams.

ST. AUGUSTINE'S CHURCH

Essex Street

Roman Catholic. Organized 1850

Rev. Fr. Nugent, Pastor

First Sunday of month. Communion day for Sacred Heart Sodality.
Second Sunday of month. Communion day for Knights of Good Counsel.
Third Sunday of month. Communion day for Holy Name Society.
Fourth Sunday of month. Communion day for Children of Mary.
Holy Name Society meets fourth Monday evening of each month.
Sacred Heart Sodality meets first Friday evening of each month.
Knights of Good Counsel meet second Wednesday evening of each month.
Promoters of Propagation of the Faith, second Thursday evening of each month.
Altar boys meet first Monday evening of each month.

FREE CHURCH

Win Street

Congregational. Organized 1840

Rev. Arthur S. Wheelock, Pastor

10.30. Worship with sermon by the pastor: "Good News About God."
12.05. The Church School.
6.30. Christian Endeavor.
7.30 Monday. Meeting of the Alpha Phi Chi society.
7.45 Wednesday. Midweek meeting. Subject for study: "The Travels of Paul."
7.15 and 8.00 Thursday. Rehearsals of the choir.

CHRIST CHURCH

Central Street

Episcopal. Organized 1835

Rev. C. W. Henry, Rector

9.00. Holy communion.
10.30. Morning prayer and sermon.
12.00. Church School.
4.30 Thursday. Choir boys.
7.00 Friday. Choir: boys and men.
9.00 Saturday. Holy communion.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Essex Street

Organized 1832

NORTH PARISH CHURCH

North Andover Centre

Unitarian. Organized 1845

Rev. E. J. Prescott, Minister

QUALITY

SERVICE

ANDOVER COAL CO.

COAL and COKE

Office: Elm Square

Tel. 345

Yard: Railroad Street

Tel. 221

ROGERS & ANGUS

Musgrove Building Tel. Con. 32 Andover
REAL ESTATE, INSURANCE and STEAMSHIP AGENCY

For Sale in Andover

Modern house of five rooms and bath, garage, fruit trees, good location.

New 6 room cottage, hard wood floors, gas, electricity, steam heat.

ON NORTH MAIN STREET, eight room house, modern improvements, garage and small lot of land.

ALSO splendid building lots on Summer Street, Highland Road, Upland Road, and Burnham Road.

Automobile Insurance

LINOLEUM SHADES
for every room in the house. made to order.

FURNITURE
RUGS BASKETS

C. S. BUCHAN
12 MAIN STREET

CARL E. ELANDER

—Tailor for—Snappy Dressers

7 Main Street Andover

E. E. GRAY CO.
24 ESSEX STREET NEXT TO POST OFFICE
JESSE E. WEST, MGR.

ONIONS, Fancy Native, 7 lbs. for 25c
PURE JAM, Raspberry or Strawberry, 16-oz. Jar 25c
MARMALADE, 16-oz. Jar 25c
STRING BEANS 12c
RAISINS, Fancy Seedless, Full Weight Package 19c
SARDINES, Tango Brand, 3 Cans for 25c
PEAS, Sweet Wrinkled, Can 18c

THE NEW BOXES OF GRAY'S SPECIAL CHOCOLATES HAVE ARRIVED 1-lb. Box 39c

HILLER'S
THREE DAY SALE

SEPTEMBER

28—29—30

Thursday—Friday—Saturday

HILLER & CO.
4 MAIN STREET - ANDOVER

SUITS! SUITS! SUITS!
$45. $47.50 $50.00 $52.50 $55.
Another new lot of fine Straw Hats just arrived
$2.50 $3.00 $3.50
Reis Underwear and Hosiery
CLEANING, DYEING and PRESSING
W. C. Crowley Barnard Building

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

ANDOVER MASSACHUSETTS

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
AT THE PRESS BUILDING BY THE ANDOVER PRESS

JOHN N. COLE

Entered as Andover PostOffice as Second Class Matter

Bonus and Politics

One cannot help wondering how Senator Lodge would have voted on the bonus bill if his election had been five years away instead of five weeks. Somebody will say that this is an unkind remark, but unfortunately it appears to be justified by the events. President Harding set before the people of the country an unanswerable reason why the bonus bill in its present form should not be passed. Neither President Harding nor anybody else can stop the feeling of the majority of the American people that a bonus should be paid the veterans of the world war. There may be many people who do not believe that this should be done and many excellent reasons could be advanced why it is not a wise thing to do, but the majority rules. With the fact established that a bonus should be paid the whole problem becomes one of how it should be financed.

Here is the whole milk in the coconut. To put the problem of paying these four billions of dollars upon some people yet unborn does not appeal to the sane, sensible, fairminded citizen. He was the man that President Harding represented in his veto. On the other hand is found that great group of representatives in Congress facing an election, in the House the entire membership, and in the Senate a large element, who have without question been stampeded into a support of the present bill, bad as it is, rather than to face criticism from a group of men who either will not or cannot understand the real issue involved.

This resolves itself into a situation where the vote of Senator Lodge cannot be explained by men who had assumed that such a legislative experience as he has had gives him the power to analyze such legislation as this, and the courage to vote in connection with that legislation irrespective of political considerations. It is quite conceivable that the result of his vote may not be exactly as anticipated.

Foolish Criticism

Some comment is heard about the boats laden with coal lying in Boston Harbor and unable to find wharves from which they may discharge cargo. The public should be informed as to the exact situation.

The boats lying in the harbor under the above conditions are laden with coal from across the water. They are the type of vessel that is totally unfitted for coal carrying, pressed into service to meet this emergency by English coal shippers who think they see a way to unload a lot of British coal upon the American people. The reason they cannot be discharged is not that there are not ample facilities in Boston Harbor for receiving coal, but because the vessels themselves are without any proper equipment and not of the proper construction for efficient handling of coal.

If it were true that Boston Harbor were clogged so far as this is concerned the State has a number of harbors, notably at Salem, Newburyport, New Bedford and Fall River, where cargoes of coal may be taken in and properly distributed by rail from water terminals. No coal has been received at any of these terminals for many years, except very small occasional shipments, but they can do business if there is any possible way for business to be done whenever the demand arises. Of course it will be easy for somebody in politics to insist that harbor accommodations are handicapping the distribution of coal to the consumers of Massachusetts, even though to suggest such a thing is absolutely and unqualifiedly without foundation.

Speaking of the coal situation, there is some evidence that it is settling itself quite rapidly, that we shall have a pretty big supply on hand by the time we need it intensively, and that there will not be very much discomfort on the part of the consumers. Of course we shall all be uncomfortable over the high price, but strikes always make high prices and there is no exception to that result.

Editorial Cinders

We cannot help commending the Selectmen for turning down the petition for the filling station on Andover Hill. There is not much likelihood of the travelling public being hard for gas even if the stations on the road between Boston and Lawrence are not nearer together than every thousand feet. The hills are so abundant that most motor cars could run down hill without gas if stopped in many places on the road. What a mess these stations are becoming in their increasing numbers all over the country! It looks as if they should be licensed pretty soon under restrictions that would not allow them to be closer together than a certain distance, and with many other restrictions to make them less objectionable. Alas, there seems to be no end to the requirements for regulation of the new things as they come in increasing numbers.

Schools are on the way with a vengeance. Big attendance at all of them, and the streets are again busy with the groups of boys and girls who make up such a large part of the Andover population for nine months of the year. The center of the town itself is pretty badly isolated because of the Main Street construction, but progress is being made there so that we ought to have the work pretty well completed within the next two weeks. Let us hope for good weather and no more labor troubles than may naturally be expected in these times of unrest, as an aid to that result.

How many of our people who read the appealing comment relative to a restriction of immigration have any conception of the way in which restricted immigration affects such public works as we are carrying on, on Main Street in Andover at the present time. There is no other reason for the increased cost of common labor, which has run from thirty-five cents in April to sixty cents in September, than the fact that the supply of this kind of labor is growing scarcer every day. We no longer have any supply that is effective in big works available among our own population. We educate them, elevate them, and get them into the position where most of our young men will do anything rather than use a pick and shovel. Hence the country is becoming increasingly dependent upon the new groups that come from time to time from foreign lands. Immigration is restricted. "Let us have only so many of each group each year irrespective of the real need that the public has for their services." The answer is reflected in present conditions that are not only breaking many communities who pay the bills, but many contractors who base their estimates upon prices in April, and pay for the job on prices in September.

Registration Dates Announced

Town Clerk Higgins announces that opportunity for registration to allow voters to cast a ballot in the fall elections will be given at the following times and places during the month of October:
At Town House, Friday, October 6, 7:30 to 10 p.m. and Saturday, October 21, 12 m. to 10 p.m.
At Old School House, Ballardvale, Monday, October 9, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.
At Phillips Club House, School street, Monday, October 17, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.
At Boy's Club House, Shawheen Village, Thursday, October 19, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Death

September 17, 1922, Hannabelle Blanchette, aged one year and three months.

Remember

We have in stock at all times

Lime Cement Spruce frame
Brick Square-edge boards
Plasterers' hair Country pine finish
Akron pipe Country pine plank
Flue lining Country pine mouldings
Country pine sheathing

"CERVIS" asphalt shingles
Roof, insulating and sheathing papers.

Philip L. Hardy

Contractor

CARTER BLOCK

ANDOVER

Andover League of Women Voters

The fall business meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters will be held in the high school, this evening at 7:30. All members are urged to attend including those who have returned the new membership cards before that date.

Mrs. Herbert I. Gurney, first vice-president of the Mass. State League of Women Voters and former President of the State Federation of Women's clubs will address the meeting.

Opportunity will be given to any who desire to become members of the League at this meeting.

The meeting will make plans for attending the Massachusetts Convention which will be held in Boston on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Work and policies will be the order of the day and each of the important points listed for consideration is timed to the minute. Two exceptions to this schedule are the addresses by the president, Mrs. Arthur G. O'Ch, and by the Legislative Chairman, Mrs. Jennie Lottman Barron. Mrs. Rotch will outline her conception of league policies at the opening session. Mrs. Barron will open the discussion on the points involved in the Woman's Party's "Bill of Rights and Privileges."

The Convention opens with a luncheon at Hotel Brunswick, September 27th at 12:30 o'clock, at which the special guests are to be the officers of the National League of Women Voters. Following the luncheon the delegates will proceed to the New England Club Rooms, 585 Boylston street, where they will be in session that afternoon and Thursday, September 28th. Wednesday evening, Mrs. Benjamin F. Pitman will receive the members of the convention and friends of the League at her residence, 121 Carlton street, Brookline.

A large number of delegates are expected to be present. Members of the League, who are not delegates, are invited to attend all the sessions, including the luncheon.

Progress on Guild Pageant

Much is being accomplished to perfect the plans for the production of "The End of the Rainbow," the pageant which is to be produced soon, under the auspices of and for the benefit of the Andover Guild. Miss Vivian Taylor, of the Guild is to direct the "Dance of the Dolls" and the "Dance of the Rainbow" and Mrs. Bartlett H. Hayes and Mrs. Thaxter Eaton have charge of the Mother Goose Phantasmagoria.

Music for the dancing and playing, and for the extravaganza of "The Princess Who Never Laughed," has been specially composed by William Henry Chase of Brookline, author of the operetta "Bluebeard" and "The Slumber Waltz," which latter has been given by the Boston Symphony Orchestra at their Pop concerts and has been received very favorably. The pupils of Miss Gilman of Haverhill will be seen in a special cycle of dances.

The committee in charge is finding the ardent cooperation of the assisting organizations very helpful.

Rummage Sale Soon

The Tuesday club would like to remind the Andover housekeepers that its annual Rummage sale will be held early in October at the Guild.

As the fall housecleaning brings to light the many articles no longer useful to the present owners, the club suggests the rummage sale as a place where these articles will be useful and very welcome.

The entire proceeds of this sale will be used for charitable purposes and everyone is asked to contribute in order that a generous sum may be realized and a worthy work continued.

All kinds of wearing apparel, furniture, rugs, carpeting, curtains, dishes, bric-a-brac, children's games and toys, books, and pictures are earnestly solicited.

Articles for the sale may be left at the Guild and it will assist the committee if people will be responsible for getting their contributions there. But any one wishing to have articles collected can arrange for it by calling Andover 69.

A New Piano Teacher in Andover

Andover is fortunate in having so capable a young musician as Mr. Albion Metcalf of Reading, Mass., devote one or more days to piano instruction in the community. Mr. Metcalf is a pupil of Mr. Raymond Havens, one of the leading pianists of Boston, has played several delightful recitals in the chapel of Phillips Academy, and should command himself most highly both to those who desire instruction of an advanced nature, as well as to those who realize the importance of having a very thorough foundation laid for beginners.

C. F. Pl.

Mr. Metcalf will teach in Andover Friday afternoons. He will be glad to interview anyone without obligation. Appointments may be had by calling Reading 4471, or by communicating with him at 36 Highland street, Reading, Mass.

Cattle Auction at Hood Farm

Approximately sixty-five thousand pounds of cattle, most of them pedigreed stock, products of the Hood farm in West Andover, were sold at public auction Monday to buyers who were attracted from all over the United States and Canada by the fame of the farm's stock. Ninety head of cattle were disposed of in all, bringing an approximate price of $245.00 a head, with a maximum price for a cow of $875.00 and for a bull of $2750.00. There were about 200 bidders present during the day.

Tom Dempsey, of Westerville, Ohio, was the sales manager for the day and handled matters in his usual efficient manner. At noon, the ladies of the Aid Society of the North Tewksbury Church served a lunch of beans, sandwiches, rolls, doughnuts, coffee and ice cream. A great many of the cattle sold were direct descendants of the famous Sophie 19th. Over $250,000 worth of cattle, direct descendants of this famous cow running into the fifth and sixth generation have been sold in the last ten years. The sale leaves about 160 head on the farm, which is for sale as a whole to settle the estate of its late owner who died in February.

Supper and Sale

An "Autumn Leaf" Supper and Sale will be held in the South Church Vestries on Friday afternoon and evening, October 6. The sale, which will include fancy and miscellaneous and children's articles, kitchen utilities, and home made food and candy, will be under the auspices of the Courteous Circle of The King's Daughters, and will open at 4 o'clock, continuing throughout the evening. At 6:30 o'clock, a supper will be served by the members of the A. P. C. Society, to which the public is cordially invited. Further details will be given later, and tickets for the supper will shortly be placed on sale. Meanwhile reserve the date, October 6.

Violin Lessons

Success can be yours if you avail yourself of this timely opportunity. Start now. Joseph Emile Daudelin, former pupil of the famous Paris Conservatoire, at the Briggs-Allen School, Saturdays; other days at Steiner Hall, Boston.

MARTHA SMITH

TEACHER OF PIANOFORTE

(TECHNIQUE PRINCIPLES)

Classes in Andover Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays (Sept. to June)

60 ELM STREET

Tel. 196 W.

Now Everybody May Exercise to Music

Set of three double-faced Victor Records for Health Exercises in compact container with illustrated instructions complete, at a price everybody can afford. Exercises are planned by Prof. Chas. H. Collins, an authority.

Good Health - Good Music - Good Fun for the whole family in this health exercise record set. Practice the exercises once a day and keep fit. You can do them wherever there is a Victrola; and anywhere with a Portable Victrola No. 50, which may be folded and carried about like a suitcase.

Come in and hear them today.

W. A. ALLEN

Allen Block, - 2 Main St.

FOR SALE

Andover: Eight room cottage, bath, hardwood floors, gas, electric lights, garage, and a splendid lot of land, location one of the best, everything in first class repair.

Andover: Ten room house, bath, gas, electric lights, hot water heat, two-car garage, barn and henhouse, some fruit and garden space, 1-2 acre of land, central location.

Andover: Six room cottage, bath, gas, nice location.

Andover: Eight room cottage, bath, gas, large lot of land, henhouse, fruit and garden, on car line.

Andover: Eight room house, bath, direct heat, barn and out buildings, garage, all kinds of fruit, seven acres of land, splendid views.

Andover Hill: Twelve room house, modern conveniences, 3-4 acre of land, barn for garage. Also a large list of double and single houses, farms and building lots for sale.

W. H. HIGGINS

40 Main Street, Andover Telephone 536

Lawrence Office 575A Essex St., Tel. 4413

MAGEE
PIPELESS HEATING SYSTEMS

REQUIRE LESS FUEL — LESS CARE

and will meet the demands required by the shortage of Anthracite Coal—can burn Wood, Soft Coal or Coke.

The demand for such a heating plant is becoming popular in the spring and fall to fill the requirements till zero weather sets in.

Manufactured by the makers of the celebrated Magee Stoves and Ranges. We have a number on hand and can install same AT ONCE.

W. H. WELCH CO.

ANDOVER OFFICE
MAIN ST.
Tel. 123

BOSTON OFFICE
36 BROMFIELD STREET

COLONIAL ANDOVER THEATRE

Matinee Every Afternoon at 2:15
PHOTOPLAY ATTRACTIONS FOR WEEK BEGINNING SEPT. 25
DAILY CHANGE OF PROGRAM
Evenings Continuous 6:15 to 10

MONDAY AND TUESDAY, SEPT. 25-26

GEORGE ARLISS IN "DISRAELI" BETTY COMPTON IN "OVER THE BORDER"

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27

JOHN GILBERT IN "ARABIAN LOVE"
"ROBINSON CRUSOE," EPISODE NO. 10

THURSDAY, SEPT. 28

WHEELER OAKMAN IN "SON OF THE WOLF"
PEARL WHITE IN "THE BROADWAY PEACOCK"

FRIDAY, SEPT. 29

ALICE CALHOUN IN "CLOSED DOORS"
"SILVER SPURS"

SATURDAY, SEPT. 30

ROBERT MCKIM IN "SON OF A CERTAIN RICH MAN"
"THE TIMBER QUEEN," EPISODE NO. 8

School Sessions Begin at Abbot Academy

Abbot academy opened for its 93rd year Thursday and the registration of scholars includes 172 students. They come from all over the country and represent some of the finest homes in the land.

The registration day for all students was Wednesday, the day students registering at 9 o'clock and the boarding students by 6 o'clock in the evening. Some of the trains from the west were late however, necessitating a late registration for some of the pupils.

Workmen have been busy putting the di erent buildings of the school in repair during the summer and everything points to a most successful year in school work. The first chapel exercises were held in Abbot hall Thursday morning and the scholars old and new were greeted by the teachers, and each other. This week will be spent in getting settled after which the work of another year will commence.

Notice

I wish to thank the unknown gentleman who kindly carried two ladies and sick baby to specialist in Malden, Friday the 15th. His thoughtfulness none could exceed.

Mrs. JOHN STRICKLAND, Van Norden road, Reading, Mass.

Andover Cash Market
No. 1 Elm St.

PRICES for QUALITY GOODS

Boned Sirloin Roasts 40c and 45c lb.
Pot Roasts (Boneless) 25c lb.
Fresh Killed Chicken 42c lb.
" " Fowl 38c lb.
Spring Lamb Legs 38c lb.
Top Round Steak 40c lb.
Fresh Pork Should's 18c lb.

ALSO

Lettuce, celery, turnips, carrots, cauliflower, cranberries, sweet potatoes, pickling onions, both white and yellow.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. William Leadwell have returned to Chicago Ill., after a pleasant summer visiting relatives in Andover.

Patrick McBride of Elm court was charged with drunkenness before Judge Stone in court Monday morning and fined $7.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Dwane, after spending the summer at their home on Morton street have returned to Farmington, Conn., for the winter.

Charles A. Parmelee, instructor in French at Phillips academy has returned from a very enjoyable summer spent in France and the European countries.

Mrs. Lawrence V. Roth and children Morrison and Catherine are spending the end of the week at their summer home at Brewster Park on the Cape.

Gladiolus Tea Next Wednesday

The Gladiolus Tea, first in the series given for the Andover Guild, by the Committee of the League of Women Voters, will be held on Wednesday afternoon from three to six at the home of Miss Sarah MacKeown, 126 Main street.

The community is invited and urged to attend these teas. While the minimum charge will be ten cents per cup, patrons will be allowed to pay for their refreshment in whatever ratio they desire.

C. E. Union Executive Committee

A business meeting of the Andover C. E. Union executive committee was held at the home of Rev. F. A. Wilson on Essex street Tuesday evening and plans made for the fall meeting of the union which will be held in the South church on Monday evening. Rev. George F. Beecher, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lawrence will be the speaker.

Free Church News

It is hoped that the members of Grenfell Chapter X. B. K. will turn out 100% at the State convention, Saturday afternoon and evening at the First Congregational church in Methuen. Automobiles have been secured to take all members who wish to go and will leave the Free church at 2 o'clock sharp. All up for the convention.

ALBION METCALF

Will teach piano in Andover, Tuesday Afternoons

For terms and appointments telephone Reading 447 J, or address

36 Highland Street, Reading, Mass.

WEDDINGS

LEVITT — FRANCIS

In the Gothic Presbyterian church, Baltimore, Md., on Saturday evening, September 16th, at 6:30 o'clock took place the marriage of William T. Levitt, president of The Levitt-Ferguson Company of Baltimore, to Miss Edna Mae Francis, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Charles J. Francis, 24 Central street, Andover.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Grace as maid of honor and Polly as flower girl. The best man was Harold Allen of Baltimore.

During the ceremony Mrs. Harold Allen sang very beautifully the soprano solo "At Dawning." The ushers were James Ferguson and Dr. Earle Barclay.

The happy couple are taking a trip through the Middle States into Canada.

HAUSER — MONCUR

A wedding of interest to Andover people took place on Friday evening in Cambridge, when Miss Jessie M. Moncur, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Moncur of Cambridge, and formerly of this town, was united in marriage to Laurence A. Hauser of Cambridge, an official of the American consulate in Berlin.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William MacNeil of the Cambridge Congregational church and the bride was given away by her father. She was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Siddle of Cambridge as maid of honor, and Mrs. Charles I. Stanton and Miss Marie Hauser as other attendants. Miss Mary Ireland of Cambridge was flower girl. The best man was Clarence McClarty of Cambridge.

The bride's gown was of white satin brought from Europe by the groom, and it was trimmed with silver lace and orange blossoms. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The attendants wore gowns of canton crepe and carried colonial bouquets.

A reception followed the ceremony and the happy couple left on a wedding trip, after which they will be at home to friends at 365 Harvard street Cambridge.

The family lived in Andover about ten years ago, Mr. Moncur being the well known painter.

LOWE — ERADI

Rev. F. A. Wilson, pastor emeritus of the Free Christian church, performed the marriage ceremony of William Lowe of Brechin terrace and Miss Alice F. Eradi, of the Hillside, which took place on Saturday evening. The attendants were George Haddon and Jessie Haddon of Essex street.

Baptist Church Picnic

The annual picnic of the Baptist church will be held tomorrow all day, at South Chelmsford Pond, where opportunities are given for all kinds of land and water sports, and where an ideal picnic ground, should make the day a successful one if the weather man will permit it so. The committee in charge have arranged a complete list of sports, which will be run off during the day, and which have been laid out to give ample enjoyment to picnickers of all ages.

A truck will leave the church promptly at 9 a.m. Tickets for adults may be obtained for $1.00, for all under 15 years for 50 cents, and for members of the primary department for 25 cents.

Perley F. Gilbert is chairman of the committee in charge of the event, and is assisted by the following: Mrs. John R. Bacon, Mrs. Clare Norton, Mrs. Ellis Hudson, Charles A. Stone and Raymond Wilson.

Andover Mothers Club

The first meeting of the season of the Andover Mothers club was held on Wednesday afternoon in Panchard hall with a good attendance. After the routine business, delegates were elected to the state convention of parent-teacher associations, which will be held on October 5, 6 and 7 in Gloucester. They were Mrs. Charles S. Buchanan, Mrs. Frank M. Foster, Mrs. Otis P. Keith and Mrs. Thomas Platt, with Mrs. Millie B. Hammond as alternate.

Plans for raising money this fall were discussed after which refreshments were served.

Dr. Bowker's Lectures

City Hall, Lawrence

PASSION PLAY

Oct. 5

WORLD AND US

Oct. 16

STORY OF SEARLES

Oct. 30

SUPERB ILLUSTRATIONS

TICKETS AT WARDS, 248 ESSEX ST.

Single 75 cts., Course $1.50.

THE ROADSIDE PANTRY SHELF

"Let me live in my house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man." — Sam Walter Foss

A FEW OF THE GOODS ON THE PANTRY SHELF — OTHER GOODS ACCORDING TO SEASON

- | | | |
|--|----------------|---|
| 1. Concentrated | 5. Jam | 10. Beans — Flower |
| 2. Driftwood | 6. Jellies | 11. Vegetables — Sweet Corn |
| 3. Chickens and Fowls | 7. Maple Syrup | 12. Fruits — Apples, Cherries, Plums, Raspberries, etc. |
| 4. Eggs — Selected, 27 cts. — Standard, 24 cts. — Small or Fullers | 8. Preserves | |

Orders left at O. P. CHASE'S STORE, 54 Main St., Andover

Orders sent to MRS. JENNIE S. A. CHASE, 95 Elm St., Andover Telephone 361-W.

REFUSE PETITION

(Continued from page 1)

and in this way give jobs to Andover citizens. Following Mr. Taylor's argument, Selectman Donald read a letter from Hollan Garth, who owns property on which the proposed filling station would be erected. Mr. Garth was in the audience and reaffirmed the letter read by Mr. Donald which follows:

Walter S. Donald, Selectman of Andover.

Dear Sir:

On petition of Colonial Filling Stations Inc.

I am not interested in the filling station but am very much interested in the sale of my land. Being a tax payer and a resident of Andover, I should have some consideration in this project.

No doubt the abutters are under the impression, that this is going to be simply a wooden shanty, with filling pumps. This is not so, it is a building of reinforced concrete, to cost from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars, built in octagonal style, with circular drives for entrance and exit, they propose using a lot of 150x150 feet, building to set back from the street, with rest rooms to accommodate their patrons. It is a beautiful piece of architecture and the only building to be erected on the lot.

I, as owner of this land, would not think for a moment of selling this land to any person or corporation to have a building erected that would not be a credit and an ornament to the place, where it will stand, and in no way will it depreciate the value of either my property or any of the abutters.

Hoping you will give me due consideration in this matter.

Very truly yours,

HOLLAN GARTH,

Hidden Road.

Another in favor of the proposition was F. S. Gilliard, who said he could see no objection to a profitable business being established in the town, and that if new-comers and new business did not come into the place, it would not grow either commercially or otherwise.

As no one else spoke on this side, Professor Charles H. Forbes took his side of the case, which was against having the filling station, and his viewpoint was backed by a petition of protest signed by a large number of residents of this section. Professor Forbes contended that there were plenty of available places to build such a stand, and that this section of the town was one of the best residential sections, and the people who had erected homes here did not want it invaded by anything of this nature, which would eventually bring in the popcorn stand and the soda fountain. The site had been chosen by many because of its good air, pleasant surroundings and views, and he did not think that a "temple of gas," however attractive, would add to the homelike atmosphere of the place. He also said that it would be a danger spot, on account of the electric car tracks and turnout. Professor Forbes then read the letter of protest and the signatures of the signers, which was as follows:

Andover, Mass., Sept. 6, 1922.

Walter S. Donald, Chairman,

Charles Bowman

Andrew McTernan

Selectmen of the Town of Andover—

Gentlemen: We, the residents of that part of the town who are interested in the petition from the Colonial Filling Stations, Inc., to install a gasoline filling station at the southwest corner of Main street and Hidden Road use this means to protest the granting of a license for this purpose. We feel that in the granting of any license Andover's best interest should have first consideration. We do not feel that any local need calls for the installation of such a storage station. We feel that it is unfair to the citizens who have built homes to have their property valuation decreased through an outside agency, who has no interest in the community other than from a commercial standpoint.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) James C. Sawyer, Mary P. Sawyer, Alfred E. Stearns, The Andover Village Improvement Society, B. F. Horne, Mae D. Horne, Warren K. Moorehead, Evelyn L. Moorehead, Mrs. Flora M. Temple, Fred M. Temple, Joseph L. Burns, Catherine H. Burns, Phil Lambda Sigma society, Harry Stephenson, Hattie Stephenson, Henry P. Kelley, Eva M. Kelley, Margaret G. Towle, John A. Towle, H. Gilbert Francke, Madeline B. Francke, Kellogg Boynton, Marion Lewis Boynton, Irving Southworth, Myrtle A. Southworth, Fred M. Smith, Blanche M. Smith, Hattie M. Roberts, L. H. Roberts, Frank S. Crawford, Anna J. Crawford, Alexander Lamont, Elizabeth Lamont, Joseph F. Cole, Celeste L. Cole, George W. Hildman, Miriam C. Hildman, Philip R. French, Clara South French, P. S. Page, Margaret Hinchcliffe, Jennie R. Hinchcliffe, John N. Cole, Minnie P. Cole, Mrs. H. Bradford Lewis, H. Bradford Lewis, Edwin F. Lewis, Charles H. Forbes, Ellen S. Forbes, William D. Walker, Mary A. Walker, Edith B. Gates, Ruth Gates, Walker Holden.

Edith Holden, Aldred Pullan, Jennima Pullan.

Selectman Donald then read another letter of protest from the Lawrence Automobile club, of which there are several Andover residents members. The letter is given below:

Sept. 16, 1922.

To the Board of Selectmen, Andover, Mass.: Gentlemen: The Lawrence Automobile club, composed of a large number of motorists in Lawrence, Andover and other towns in this vicinity, respectfully but urgently files herewith its protest against the granting of the permit sought by the Colonial Filling Stations, Inc., to operate a gasoline filling station at the southwest corner of Main street and Hidden road in Andover. The protest is made in behalf of the safety, service and comfort of its members against the granting of any permit at the proposed location on the following grounds:

1. It would be a source of great danger to establish an additional hazard at this point, the junction of one of the most traveled highways in the state and a generally used country road.

2. At this point the street car tracks cross Main street at almost a right angle and use in themselves a source of great danger to motor and horse-drawn vehicles. To permit a filling station to be established at this point would necessarily cause a large number of additional vehicles to be congregated at an acknowledged danger point. It seems that good judgment would preclude the creation of any additional source of danger.

3. The proposed location is now used as a terminus for a street car line, and also as a street car turnout. It therefore follows that the danger to the citizen, who is a non-motorist is greatly increased. He looks to you to curb, rather than increase the danger incident to his presence in the public highway.

4. The proposed filling station is not an absolute necessity to motorists because the wants of motorists are amply supplied on all the approaches to the town of Andover by stations already in existence.

Respectfully submitted,

Lawrence Automobile Club.

By Michael O'Brien its attorney,

Lawrence, Mass.

Dr. A. E. Stearns then had a few words to say in regard to the effect of such a place on Phillips academy, and he thought that it would bring an entirely new element which would not be desirable for the boys. He said also that this part of the town was one now of danger, the car tracks crossing the street and the hollow being a constant menace to the pedestrian. He thought that there were twenty-five available sites elsewhere, which would be just as advantageous to the company and not interfere with the wishes of the householders who live near.

John C. Angus protested, saying that the property if used in this way would be a distinct loss for residential land. George B. Frost said that he never had any trouble in selling land in this section and wondered why Mr. Garth seemed so anxious over the sale of his property. Mrs. B. F. Horne was opposed to the station, saying that the street at this point now was almost impossible to cross; that there could not help being noise and odor connected with such a place and she was unalterably opposed to such a business proposition.

Mr. Hubbard, engineer for the company, wanted to know if the objections were to the erection of a filling station or to the location and was told that it was the latter. Both he and Mr. Taylor said that they would be glad to find other available sites. Mr. Taylor also said that it would be a paying proposition as nothing but the highest grade of products would be dispensed at the stations.

Second Andover Golf Tournament is Under Way

A meeting of the Andover Golf Committee will be held some evening next week to set a date and prepare plans for their second tournament. The first was held last year and was such a complete success, there being about ninety players, that there has been a persistent demand to make the event an annual one.

J. F. O'Connell, chairman of the committee, who had the best gross score last year, which carried with it the title of Andover golf champion, will be hard pressed to hold it this year, as there are already several strong challengers for the title. The tournament last year was held at the Merrimack Valley Country Club. As was the case last year, all golfers in the town, whether or not they belong to a club, are eligible to play.

The committee in charge includes J. F. O'Connell, chairman; H. Bradford Lewis, Dr. Claude M. Fuess, W. Dudley Yates, John N. Cole, Walter M. Lamont, Frederick H. Jones, and Bartlett H. Hayes.

Phillips Club Elects

At the annual meeting of the Phillips club held Tuesday evening, Warren K. Moorehead was elected president, Cecil K. Bancroft, secretary and Charles A. Parmelee, treasurer. Horace M. Foynter gave a talk on some of his experiences in Italy and England during the last year. The regular series of smoke talks carried on during the fall and winter will begin shortly.

A new organ has been built in Peabody House during the summer and will be available not only for student gatherings but also for practice by students in the department of music.

Will Visit Hospital

Members of Andover post and the Legion Auxiliary will visit the sick soldiers at the Danvers hospital next Sunday. Cake, pies, fruit and up-to-date magazines are solicited and anyone who cares to contribute any of these things may leave them at the home of Mrs. Amy Briggs on Main street on Saturday. The hospital authorities wish that very little candy and no smokes be sent.

THE BOSTON STORE
REID & HUGHES CO.

Leonard E. Bonnik, Pres., Treas. and Gen. Mgr.
DELIVERIES IN ANDOVER AND BALLARDVALE
STORE HOURS: MONDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, 9.30 to 5.30
WEDNESDAY, 9.30 to 12 NOON
TUESDAY, 9.30 to 5.30; SATURDAY, 9.30 to 5.30

NEW FALL DRESSES

An exceptionally complete selection in two popular prices for the new season

$9.95 — and — $14.95

The $9.95 dresses are made of all wool pique twill, embroidered and braid trimming, and are $12.95 values.

The $14.95 dresses are of fine quality pique twill, heavy tub silk lined, and in all sizes, $19.95 values.

Coats of English Tweeds

Unusual values in the full range of sizes from 16 to 44, special at $9.95

Hundreds of FALL HATS

FEATURING

Trimmed Hats at $5

In all the new fall colorings, and shapes, and priced at the popular marking, which is less than their real value.

(GARMENTS AND MILLINERY — SECOND FLOOR)

The Peters' Harness and Leather Goods Shop

DEALERS IN

Harnesses, Bags and Suit Cases

239 Broadway, Lawrence, Mass.

Tel. 1825

Repairing of Bags and Suit Cases a Specialty

Notice

The committee for the fancy table for the "End of the Rainbow" expect to have a pleasing variety of articles to offer to the patrons of the bazaar. Any one wishing to order special things, as for instance silk kimono, camisoles or undervests, will please communicate with Mrs. George Seiden, 42 School street and such orders will be filled if possible. Contributions for the table may be sent to Mrs. H. H. Tyer, 15 Morton street.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was tendered Mrs. Henry Fairweather at the home of Mrs. Edward Emaley on High street recently, where she was presented with a handsome travelling bag by her many friends of the mending room of the Marland mill. The presentation was made by Miss Alice Heffernan. Games were played and solos were rendered by Mr. Fairweather and Miss Rose LaFare; Irish jig by Mrs. Belier and a piano solo by Mrs. Stott. The party broke up at a late hour wishing Mrs. Fairweather success.

Those present were Misses Ethel Hilton, Rose LaFare, Lydia Hilton, Josephine Lynch, Helen Lynch, Alice Heffernan, Nellie Brennan, Katherine Daley, Sarah Hitcher, Claire Harlow, Nellie Hodnett, Annie Anderson, Mary Winters, Kitty Bickell, Jennie Fairweather, Mrs. Emaley, Mrs. Stott, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Fairweather, Mrs. Belier, Mr. Fairweather and Edward Emaley.

Real Estate Transfer

Two cottages owned by William Quinn, Jr., of Ballardvale, situated on River street, have been sold this week to Hedley Davison through the office of William H. Higgins. Mr. Davison is employed at the Ripley farm.

Baby wants a 'lectric fan
Get him one as soon as you can.

WHEN the torrid days come to fret the baby and the nasty flies are making him pug his little nose in wrinkles of disgust, one of the fans we are now showing will drive the heat and flies away. It is reasonable summer time comfort for the whole family. Buy an electric fan.

Electrically Driven Fans
A. C. Hill

C. A. HILL
THE ELECTRIC SHOP
ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES & SERVICE
PHONE: 344W-56 MAIN ST.

TEACHER OF PIANOFORTE

GENEVIEVE M. COATES

53 Bartlett Street, Andover, Mass.

Telephone 656-W.

For Luncheon

Chicken in Glass large size, 65c

Chicken in Glass small size, 35c

Deviled Chicken small size, 35c

Chicken Chop Suey large size, 60c

Welch's Grape Juice

Beechnut Ginger Ale

Lindsay's Market
4 Main Street

Headquarters for FRUITS and VEGETABLES
Fresh Every Day

Corn—Corn
Fresh from Andover Farms

Preserving Peaches

TOMATOES LETTUCE
CUCUMBERS BEETS
PEPPERS SHELL BEANS
SUMMER SQUASH
EGG PLANTS CABBAGE
CAULIFLOWER
SWEET POTATOES

HONEYDEW MELONS
CANTALOUPE PLUMS
BLUEBERRIES
BANANAS GRAPEFRUIT
LEMONS GRAPEFRUIT
ORANGES APPLES

FREE DELIVERY

A. BASSO

Next door to Andover National Bank

COAL ORDERS

placed now will have our preferred attention when mining and shipping of coal is resumed.

Why not play safe and place your order with us now?

FIRST COME FIRST SERVED

Bernard L. McDonald Co.

Anthracite COAL Bituminous

398 ESSEX ST. - - LAWRENCE, MASS.

TELEPHONE LAWRENCE 4100 and 4101

COLONIAL THEATRE—SUNDAY AFTERNOON CONCERTS

OCT. 22

HEIFETZ

Violinist

NOV. 19

BRASLAW

Contralto

JAN. 14

WERRENRATH

Baritone

Course tickets go on sale Saturday morning, Sept. 30 at box-offices.

MAIL ORDERS ARE BEING FILLED NOW.

Address them and make checks payable to "Star Concert Series," Box 334, Lawrence. Enclose stamp.

COURSE TICKETS: $3, $4, $5, $6 and 10% war tax.

GOLDEN WEDDING

(Continued from Page 1)

William P. of Concord, N. H.; Frederick J. of Montclair, N. J., and Henry C. of Philadelphia. There are also six grandchildren, one of three grandsons having just returned from France where he was engaged in Red Cross work. Two other grandsons are in college, one in Yale University and the other in Norwich University. No deaths have yet come to mar the family circle.

Mr. Minor was born in Ceylon in 1840 and will celebrate his 82nd birthday this November. His father was Eastman S. Minor, a missionary to India from the American Board.

Mrs. Minor was born eighty years ago. Her name was Nellie Andrews, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Andrews of Lawrence, and she lived in that city until the family moved to New Haven.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Minor are enjoying excellent health for their years and have the promise of many more years of usefulness. Their wedding anniversary was made happy by the presence of their son William, who with his wife came from Concord for the occasion.

Navy Recruiting Office Here Thursday

The Recruiting Agent of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station of Boston will visit Andover on Thursday of each week. The Navy is opened for first enlistment and enlistments of ex-service men. Opportunities are greater at present than they have been for the past few years, especially for tradesmen, who when found qualified will be enlisted as second class petty officers. Men wishing to learn different trades will be enlisted and sent to the various trades schools of the service. Ex-service men who are out of the service less than a year may be re-enlisted in their ratings of what they were holding on last enlistment. The Navy in general offers more than any branch of Civil Service, men may be retired after 16 years, comparatively at the age of 34 and have the privilege of seeking other employment, their retired pay is $73.50 per month.

Moving pictures of navy life will be shown at the Colonial Theatre Thursdays, and the recruiting agent will be in the vicinity of the post office and theatre during the day for any information pertaining to the naval service.

South Church Notes

The Rally Day for the Church School will be held on Sunday October 1st at 12 o'clock, when the various departments will meet in a union service to inaugurate the work of the year. The classes and their teachers will assemble after the long summer vacation, augmented by the newcomers.

The Superintendent, E. M. Weeks, is planning special exercises for the day. The King's Daughters Fair will be held on Friday, October 6th, with the aid of the A. P. C. Sorority and will provide the main social event of the parish for a Fall Get-together.

A church night will be held on Wednesday October 11th, with some new and interesting features to be announced later.

The Men's Club promises for October 20th, a first meeting of the season, they will gather the large membership of that organization to meet the Hon. John Jacob Rogers, our popular Congressman from Washington, D. C.

ABBOTT VILLAGE

Mrs. Jean McDermitt of Brechin terrace is confined to her home by illness.

James McGhie of Cuba street has removed his family to Shawheen road.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Valentine of Essex street spent Sunday at Nantasket Beach.

Mrs. James Cairnie of Red Spring road has entered the employ of Smith and Dove company.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson of Lowell spent the week-end renewing acquaintances in the village.

Mrs. Anna Ness of Red Spring road has returned to her work in the Merrimack Mutual office after two weeks' vacation.

Miscellaneous Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Anna Sullivan at her home on Red Spring road, Monday evening, when a number of her friends surprised her, the event being her approaching marriage to Herbert Auty of South Lawrence. The house was prettily decorated in yellow and white, and a pleasant evening was spent with music and games. Refreshments were served. The bride to be received many beautiful articles including furniture, linen and cut glass.

Those present were: Agnes Sullivan, Christina Sullivan, Christina Lynch, Emma Cashan, Rose Cashan, Etta Cashan, Helen Bickell, Margaret Rogers, Isabella Killacky, Kathleen Hart, Marion Auty, Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, Mrs. O'Neill, Mrs. Walde, Mrs. Cronin, Mrs. Detremont, Mrs. Kitty Bickell and Mrs. John Sullivan.

WEST PARISH

The Lafalot club met with Marion Abbott on Tuesday evening.

Rachel Boutwell of Shawheen road will enter Mt. Holyoke college this fall.

Mrs. Newman Matthews is visiting her son, Medwin, at his home in New Jersey.

Roger H. Lewis of Lowell street begins his second year at Essex Agricultural school, Monday.

Mrs. Ida F. Shaw leaves for Stoddard, New Hampshire, this week for a short visit with her son, Walter.

Andover Grange will meet on Tuesday evening. A reception to teachers, with Mrs. Chester P. Abbott, Mrs. George M. Carter, Mrs. R. N. C. Barnes in charge is planned. Refreshments will be served.

The C. E. of the West church meet at the parsonage last Sunday evening and made their plans for the coming year. On the first Sunday of every month they will have the regular consecration meeting, on the others they are going to study an interesting book of Ancient times, "Arius the Libyan" by Nathan Kouns. Instead of having a stereopticon lecture every month they will have it every two months.

The elected officers which are as follows: Lena Davis, president; Abbie Lewis, vice-president; Richard Carter, secretary; Raymah Wright, treasurer; Esther Lewis, press editor.

BALLARDVALE

Rev. A. H. Fuller, Pastor

10.30. Worship with sermon by the pastor Sunday School to follow.

6.15. Christian Endeavor.

7.30. Wednesday. Prayer meeting.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

10.30. Worship with sermon by the pastor Sunday School to follow.

7.00. Union Service.

7.30. Wednesday. Prayer Meeting.

Mrs. James Higgins of Tewksbury spent Sunday here.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Stafford spent Sunday visiting here.

A. P. Woson spent Monday at his home on High street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mears spent Sunday visiting relatives here.

Joseph Stevenson has resumed his studies at Pynchard High school.

Earl Moody led an interesting meeting Sunday at the M. E. church.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Haggerty and family have moved to this town.

Mrs. E. E. E. Mitchell is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haynes.

Mrs. William Huckins, Mrs. Ralph De-Tour and family spent Sunday visiting here.

Miss Leota Shattuck has been spending a few days at the home of her parents on Center street.

Mrs. S. A. Walker left Tuesday for Toronto, Canada, where she will visit relatives for a number of weeks.

Miss Mabel Herrick has returned after spending two weeks with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Litchfield of Needham.

Misses Anna and Katherine Horan have returned to their home in Long Island City after spending some time here.

Mrs. Manuel Prada and daughter, Gladys, of Provincetown are visiting at the home of Mrs. Annie Littlewood, Center street.

A number of relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. George Brown, Center street, Monday evening, to celebrate his birthday. The evening was spent in a social way and refreshments were served.

Box Party Held

Monday evening the Ballardvale Lodge held a successful box party. William MacDonald and James Miller were in charge.

Although there was only a small number of boxes to be auctioned off, a fine time was had by all present.

Next week a clipping party will be held and will be in charge of William MacDonald and James Miller.

A delegation from here will attend the jilney social at Brook Lodge next Thursday night.

Plans are also on foot to hold a pie social in the near future.

Child Steps on Needle

Norma Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Matthews, Center street, is suffering from the effects of stepping on a needle Monday night. Medical aid was summoned and the wound cared for.

Woman Hit by Taxi

Last Saturday Mrs. Paul Haebler of this town was slightly hurt when she was hit by a taxi in Lawrence. The accident happened near the Boston & Maine station and was caused when the taxi backed into her and caused an ankle bruise. At the present time she has nearly recovered from the incident.

Local Man Returns to Clark University

Frederick Cronin, well known young man, of this town, returned Monday to Clark University, Worcester, where he will resume his school work.

He graduated from Pynchard High two years ago and was president of his class.

Local Boy Shines in Pynchard Practice

Charles Haynes, who is out for fullback on Pynchard High football team is playing a star game.

Former Residents Visit Here

Monday afternoon, Mrs. Helen Johnson, Mrs. Frank Parkhurst and Mrs. Robert Richardson, former well known residents of this town, visited here renewing acquaintances with their friends.

Deep Sea Fishing Trip

Sunday was an ideal day for deep sea fishing and at 7 a.m. sharp local fishermen started in Morrissey's truck for Salem Willows where they went on the fishing boat for the grounds.

Fishing was good and the party returned with a good supply of fish.

James Fee of Andover was the lucky man of the day and won the prize for catching the largest fish.

All present pronounced the day well spent and will be ready for the next one which will be scheduled in a few weeks.

Methodists Defeat Smith & Dove at Volley Ball

Saturday afternoon the Methodist church volleyball team defeated the Smith and Dove team at Andover two out of three games.

Some mighty good playing was done by both teams but the M. E. team finally won the last game played by a close margin.

The scores: Methodists 15; S. & D., 7; S. & D., 15; Methodists 10; Methodists 15, S. & D., 12.

The lineup: Methodists, George Brown, Carl Wells, E. W. Brown, Fred Wrigley and Harold Wells.

Smith and Dove: James Lowe, James Gorie, Archie Sullivan, Joe Connelly, Kenneth MacDonald.

A return game will be played on the Methodist church grounds next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Shaub Return Home

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Shaub returned Saturday night from a six weeks' trip to Iowa and Nebraska. At the morning service held in the Methodist church, Mr. Shaub took his text from the 5th verse of the 115th Psalm and said: In these days many people go through life without seeing the many beautiful things in life. They have eyes but they see not and ears but they hear not. There is beauty in our fellow men if we will look for the good that comes from their life.

We went on to speak of the starving condition in the countries of Europe and how fortunate we are in this country in having so much to live for. We should not forget the things God has given us, the fine schools that we can use. The fine homes that we occupy.

We are living in a fast way and do not stop to realize that all the beauties of life come from God and that is why it should be impressed on the minds of people that everything comes from our Heavenly Father.

Let us not have ears that do not hear nor mouths that do not speak nor eyes that do not see the beautiful things in life and let us work with all our might and strength for the Community in which we live.

Bakery Sale

The Ballardvale lodge No. 105 will hold a bakery sale in William Stark's meat market tomorrow morning between 9 a.m. and 12 m.

False Alarm Calls Firemen

Early Sunday morning an alarm from box 21 called firemen to that section which proved to be a false alarm.

Duck Season Opens

The hunting season for certain kinds of ducks and shore birds opened Saturday morning and a number of local sportsmen started the season but were not successful in bagging any game.

Harry Trow Receives Watch and Cup

Harry Trow received the watch and cup for being the best batter in the twilight league, Saturday afternoon.

Confirmation at St. Augustine's

Bishop Anderson confirmed a class of 122 children at St. Augustine's church last Friday afternoon at 2.30. The children assembled in the chapel and marched into the church making a very impressive appearance, with the girls in white dresses and wearing veils and the boys wearing white badges.

Bishop Anderson, who gave the class a very instructive talk, was assisted by Rev. John A. Nugent, pastor and Rev. P. J. Campbell, assistant pastor. The children sang several hymns with Miss Annie G. Donovan at the organ. Benediction was by Rev. T. J. Fogarty.

The members of the class received communion Sunday morning, mass being celebrated by Rev. Fr. Nugent. Instruction was given by the Sisters of the parochial school under the direction of the Sister Superior.

Those confirmed were as follows: Boys—Joseph Andrew Basso, Leo Joseph Boote, Leo Joseph Boucher, Henry Augustine Burline, William Frederick Burline, Frederick Augustine Barrett, James William Bonner, George Augustine Carney, Thomas Joseph Coyle, William Cornelius Crowley, John Patrick Carroll, James Michael Corey, Cornelius Francis Collins, Joseph Bernard Doherty, Francis Edward Davis, Walter Augustine Daley, Daniel James Doyle, Wilfred Joseph Dwyer, Bernard Augustine English, Thomas Arthur Fallon, James Francis Fitzgerald, James Mary Gallant, James Raymond Gorman, Edward Mary Grealish, William Joseph Greene, Randall Anthony Hurler, Joseph Mary Henuell, Philip John Higgins, Richard Mary Kelley, John Joseph Kelley, Lester George Kane, Thomas William Lynch, Walter Augustine Markey, Arthur Francis Mooney, William Leo McDonald, Jeremiah John McCarthy, Daniel Joseph McCarthy, Thomas Francis Morrissey, William Edward McKee, William Joseph McCarthy, Louis Joseph McIntyre, Eugene Joseph McGuire, William Henry Miner, Theodore Francis Polgreen, Aubrey John Polgreen, John Mary Paradise, James Philip Robinson, Francis John Robertson, John Phillips Rogers, James Stephen Ronan, James David Buxton, John George Russon, Maurice John Shea, Emmet Joseph Shea, Michael Augustine Shea, Joseph Frederick Sullivan, William Joseph Stockdale, John Joseph Strots, John Augustine Timony, Earl Joseph Patrick Urban, Frederick Joseph Welch, John Augustine Welch, James Francis Welch, Joseph Augustine Bouleau, James Francis Timony.

Girls—Rose Mary Arsenault, Alice Monica Burke, Marguerite Olive Barrett, Catherine Rita Connor, Elizabeth Cecelia Corey, Margaret Cecelia Chick, Alice Anna Chick, Helen Claire Collins, Charlotte Claire Collins, Mary Agnes Collins, Elizabeth Genevieve Dimmock, Mary Agnes Donovan, Mary Winifred, Doucette, Mary Augusta

Doyle, Mary Madeline Doherty, Anette Cecelia Demars, Estelle Mary Dumont, Frances Sarah Farrell, Mary Josephine Fallon, Abigail Rita Greene, Rosina Veronica Gibson, Caroline Mary Grealish, Eva Mary Glowska, Elizabeth Mary Hoffman, Clara Bertha Holland, Catherine Mary Jacobs, Dorothy Mary Kyle, Catherine Josephine Keany, Anna Josephine Leary, Rene Monica Lefebvre, Mary Agnes Lonergan, Mary Theresa McCarthy, Rose Cecelia McCartney, Mabel Theresa McCarthy, Irene Honora McCarthy, Mary Winifred McDonald, Agnes Veronica Murphy, Mary Agnes Maguire, Dorothy Rose McCarthy, Anna Claire Maguire, Catherine Cecelia Milne, Gladys Margaret McGovern, Edna Mary McGovern, Mary Loretta Nowell, Olive Mary Noel, Margaret Patricia O'Neill, Irene Mary Poisson, Estelle Rita Poisson, Lillian Dorothy Palmer, Elizabeth Mary Reilly, Helen Francis Reilly, Catherine Rose Reilly, Anna Helen Rudy, Louise Catherine Sullivan, Helen Bernardine Sullivan, Grace Mary Sharpe, Elizabeth Regina Winters.

Punchard Squad Twenty Strong

In response to a call from Coach Lovely of Pynchard High for football candidates, fourteen letter men and six others presented themselves and practice is now on every day. The opening game will take place at Stoneham one week from next Saturday, and the boys will be pushed hard to be in shape for the contest.

The veterans of last year's squad who reported for practice were: Captain Stack, H. Dyer, J. Frederickson, Wright, Doherty, Barnes, Pratt, Haynes, Souter, J. Stevenson, Adams, C. Frederickson and Stewart.

The prospects for a good team are bright with fourteen veterans back and Coach Lovely is optimistic over the season's outlook.

Andover Duckpin League Reorganizes

The Andover Duckpin Bowling League reorganized for the coming season Tuesday night, with William McIntosh as president, George Christie as secretary and James Ross Jr., as treasurer. The league will roll on Monday and Tuesday nights on the Andover alleys. The first games will be rolled next Monday night between the Yanks and Shawheens and the Braves and Dohertys. Tuesday night the Chevrolets and McIntoshes will roll and the Legion and Rockports. The league's team champions will receive $25 and the team finishing second will get $10. The prize for the player having the highest average during the season will be $5 and there will be a $2.50 gold piece for the best single. The league will run twenty-eight weeks.

Burns Committee Meet

A meeting of the Burns committee of Clan Johnson was held Wednesday evening and plans talked over for the annual Burns concert which takes place on January 26 in the Town hall.

The singers have not been engaged as yet, but it is planned to have a chorus, and Bardsey's orchestra of Lawrence has been engaged to furnish the instrumental music. The Bruce children who have won many medals for their dancing are to give exhibitions of fancy dancing and Charles Naylor of Lawrence will be the accompanist on the piano. Next January's affair, which is looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation by all Scotsmen, promises to be a gala occasion.

EGGS

ARE WORKING HIGHER in PRICE

We sell the goods that make the least cost for the producer.

Try us on your next order.

Prompt Delivery

Courteous Attention

JOHN SHEA

10 Essex St., Tel. 138

Olin Richardson

TEAMING and HAULING

WOOD SAWED

PLUGHING—ASHES REMOVED

Residence: 7 WALNUT AVE.

Telephone 68

Pictures of OLD ANDOVER

We will buy pictures of old Andover, any subject and any view. May be brought to the store, or agent will call and examine and make offers.

Right prices will be paid.

THE ANDOVER BOOKSTORE

Presented with Bag

Geoffrey Nicoll, of Whittier street, who left this week for Worcester where he started a course in business at Clark college, was presented with a fine brown leather bag by the employees of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company on Saturday.

Mr. Nicoll is a graduate of the Pynchard High school and has been employed by the Insurance company for some time. His many friends wish him success in his further line of study.

Committee Chosen

The women of the Free church who have been asked to serve on the domestic table at the Guild bazaar to be held on October 26, 27 and 28 in conjunction with women from the South and West churches have appointed the following committee: Mrs. David Lindsay, chairman; Mrs. Edwin Ferry, Mrs. Alexander Sheriff and Mrs. David Coutts.

These ladies will be glad to receive any articles suitable for the domestic section of the bazaar.

Marriages

September 16, 1922, in Andover, William Low and Alice Francis Erdell, both of Andover, by Rev. F. A. Wilson.

September 17, 1922, in Andover, Ray Otis Day of Pomona, California, and Etta May VanBuskirk of Andover, by Rev. Arthur S. Wheelock.

All University of Arizona students must sleep in the open air. As the climate is dry, mild and equable, it is possible to provide open-air sleeping quarters during the entire college year.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

NOTICE

My wife Vester, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any bills contracted by her after this date.

BAGDASAR OZOONIAN

Andover, Mass. Sept. 18, 1922.

FOR SALE—An oak dining-room set and a 3-piece parlor set. Apply 7 Chapman court.

WANTED—A small pony cart suitable for little children. Telephone 215 R. H. M. POYNTER, 21 Phillips St., Andover.

WANTED—Woman to assist daily with household. 29 Central St., Andover.

FOR SALE—A gas range in good condition. Price reasonable. Call at 36 Elm St., or telephone 626 J.

WANTED—A cook. Apply 41 School St., after September 17.

FOR SALE—Kitchen range, Stewart No. 8. Apply 6 Chestnut St.

FOR SALE—Studebaker sedan in A1 condition. Apply at 7 Florence St.

TO LET—Pleasant furnished rooms. Hot and cold water, electric lights. With or without board. 55 High Street, Andover.

AGENTS WANTED—To sell the original Watkins Products. Good city territory still open. Get our wonderful offer and free samples. Write today. The J. R. WATKINS CO., Dept. 80, 64 Washington Street, North, Boston, Mass.

WANTED—Work. Will do general housework, house, store or office cleaning. Loan E. Thorne, 104 Central street, Andover, Mass.

PRIVATE FARM WORK HORSES—Replaced by auto truck and tractor. No. 1, beautiful young Morgan horse weighing 1250, price $60, cost $200; also used for farm work. Pair Canadian Brown horses weighing together 2800, sell pair for $125, cost $400; also the harness, farm wagon and carriage; also late Top Roll Curtains Side Vias truck, carry too, in fine condition, been carefully used, price $150. Call private residence, 68 High street, Medford, Mass., near Medford square. Seen any time. 30 days trial on horses. Tel. 3199-W Mystic. Mr. William Haley.

WANTED—Men or women to take orders for genuine guaranteed laundry for men, women, and children. Eliminates drying. $40 a week full time, $1.00 an hour spare time. Experience unnecessary. International Stocking Mills, Norritown, Pa.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT

Essex, ss. To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Frank Drew late of Andover in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for probate, by Joseph N. Ashton who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Lawrence in said County of Essex, on the ninth day of October A.D. 1922, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Andover Townsman a newspaper published in Andover the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, HARRY R. DOW, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of September in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two.

HORACE H. ATHERTON, Jr., Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT

Essex, ss. To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of William G. Hickingbotham late of Andover in said County, deceased, intestate.

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to John J. Clorrey of Lowell in the County of Middlesex without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Salem in said County of Essex, on the thirteenth day of October A.D. 1922, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Andover Townsman a newspaper published in Andover the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, HARRY R. DOW, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirteenth day of September in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two.

HORACE H. ATHERTON, Jr., Register.

BRING US YOUR 1922 AUTOMOBILE REGISTRATIONS. We will be glad to help you fill them out.

BOSTON & LAWRENCE DESPATCH

ANDOVER—Tel. 3-17 Maple Ave. (Hardy House)
LAWRENCE—Tel. 1083-1084—Boston and Maine Court, opp. Common St.
BOSTON, Main Office—Tel. Fort Hill 6949—15 Devonshire St.

WITHOUT any inconvenience to you the PORTRAITS of your family and friends, which have long been wanted, can be made at your home in a very few minutes. Children a Specialty. J. C. HANSEN, 4 Morton St

JOHN F. Mc DONOUGH General Contractor

OFFICE: 18 NORTH MAIN STREET, ANDOVER, MASS.

Excavating, Grading, Teaming, Motor Trucking

SAND GRAVEL CRUSHED STONE

LOAM CINDERS and FILLING

TELEPHONE 628 ANDOVER

ANDOVER STEAM LAUNDRY

A gentleman's linen should be spotless and white. You will find the Andover Laundry can do it out of sight. We put buttons in the button holes right new from out of the box. We mend up all your underwear and also darn your socks.

Phone 110

ANDOVER, NORTH ANDOVER and LAWRENCE

POMPS POND ICE

PEOPLES ICE CO.

57 Park St., Andover Tel. 447-M

BIRD'S ROOFS

Miss Lulu Bett

By Zona Gale

Illustrations by Irwin Myer

SYNOPSIS

I—APRIL—General Sackett in the house of her sister Ina, wife of Herbert Deacon, in the small town of Warbleton. Lulu Bett leads a dull, cramped existence, with which she is constantly at odds, though apparently satisfied with her lot. She has natural thoughts and aspirations which neither her sister nor her brother-in-law seem to comprehend. To Mr. Deacon comes Bobby Larkin, recently graduated high-school youth, recently enamored of Deacon's elder daughter, Diana, an applicant for a "job" around the Deacon house. He is engaged, his occupation is to keep the lawn in trim. The family is excited over the news of an approaching visit from Deacon's brother, Ninian, whom he had not seen for many years. Deacon jokes with Lulu, with subtle meaning, concerning the coming meeting.

II—MAY—Chastity because of the ripple in her placid existence, Lulu is interested and speculative, meanwhile watching with something like envy the boy-and-girl love-making of Bobby and Diana. Unexpectedly, Ninian arrives, in the absence of Herbert, at his business and of Ina, reading. This he becomes acquainted with Lulu first and in a measure understands her position in the house. To Lulu, Ninian is a much-traveled man of the world and, even the slight interest which he takes in her is appreciated, because it is something new in her life.

III—JUNE—At an outing which the family takes, Ninian and Lulu become in a measure confidential. He expresses his disapproval of her treatment as a sort of dependent in the Deacon home. Lulu has vaguely had the same thoughts, but her loyalty to her sister and her own diffidence make Ninian's comments embarrassing. He declares his intention of leaving the family a "good time" in the city before he leaves. Diana and Bobby, in the course of "soft nothings," discuss the possibility of eloping and "surprising the whole school." Lulu, despite herself, is attracted to pleasant possibilities concerning Ninian's intentions toward herself, the more so because hitherto she has been a practical nonentity in the household, having little to do with its simple social functions. The fact that Ninian had walked home with her causes all sorts of speculations to disturb her slumbers that night.

IV—JULY—Ninian redeems his promise of a "good time," and dinner in the adjacent city, with the attentions shown her by her brother-in-law, is a delight to Lulu. At supper, after the theater, the conversation languishes, and Herbert, bettering himself by reading the funeral service as a rebuke for the dullness. Ninian apparently joins in the conversation of the wedding service, himself and Lulu participating. As part of the joke Lulu repeats the words of the civil ceremony, with Ninian. The laughter subsiding, Herbert remembers that a civil wedding is taking place in the state, and immediately, to the surprise of Lulu and Ninian, who are already wedded, the rest of the party is shocked, but Ninian declares he is perfectly satisfied. Lulu is dumfounded but secretly happy. She and Ninian depart at once for their honeymoon, without returning to Warbleton. The Deacon house is so then spreading the news in the town, though the services of Lulu are easily missed in the household.

V—AUGUST—Lulu's marriage, now an event of a month ago, still is a subject of conversation in the Deacon family. Ina feeling that there is something vaguely disquieting in her sister's letters. Abruptly, Lulu returns to her former home, without Ninian, and with the appalling news that he has a wife living (though she declares he believed her dead) when he and Lulu went through the wedding ceremony at that after-theater supper. With little feeling for Lulu's unhappy position, the Deacon think only of the disgrace to the family. Reluctantly, Herbert agrees to write to Ninian, insisting on the whole truth, and Lulu takes up her old position. Herbert is inclined to blame Lulu for her part in the proceedings, and Ina defends her feebly. Billing and cooing between Bobby Larkin and Diana goes merrily on, though neither Diana's father nor her stepmother appear to notice anything out of the ordinary.

Chapter VI Continued

"We—we sung all I knew how to play, I guess, mamma."

"I used to play on the melodeon," Mrs. Bett volunteered, and spread and examined her right hand.

"Well!" said Cornish.

She now told them about her log-house in a New England clearing, when she was a bride. All her store of drama and life came from her. She rehearsed it with far eyes. She laughed at old delights, drooped at old fears. She told about her little daughter who had died at sixteen—a tragedy such as once would have been renewed in a vital ballad. At the end she yawned frankly as if, in some terrible sophistication, she had been telling the story of some one else.

"Give us one more piece," she said.

"Can we?" Cornish asked.

"I can play 'I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old,'" Lulu said.

"That's the ticket!" said Cornish.

They sang it, to Lulu's right hand.

"That's the one you picked out when you was a little girl, Lulu," cried Mrs. Bett.

Lulu had played it now as she must have played it then.

Half after nine and Di had not returned. But nobody thought of Di. Cornish rose to go.

"What's that?" Mrs. Bett demanded.

"Dwight's letters, mamma. You mustn't touch them!" Lulu's voice was sharp.

"Say!" Cornish, at the door, dropped his voice. "If there was anything I could do at any time, you'd let me know, wouldn't you?"

That past tense, those subjunctives, unconsciously called upon her to feel no intrusion.

"Oh, thank you," she said. "You don't know how good it is to feel—"

"Of course it is," said Cornish heartily.

They stood for a moment on the porch. The night was one of low

"Of Course," said Lulu, "Of Course You Won't—You Wouldn't."

clamor from the grass, tiny voices, insisting.

"Of course," said Lulu, "of course you won't—you wouldn't—"

"Say anything!" he divined. "Not for dollars. Not," he repeated, "for dollars."

"But I knew you wouldn't," she told him.

He took her hand. "Good-night," he said. "I've had an awful nice time singing and listening to you talk—well, of course—I mean," he cried, "the supper was just fine. And so was the music."

"Oh, no," she said.

Mrs. Bett came into the hall.

"Lulu," she said, "I guess you didn't notice—this one's from Ninian."

"Mother—"

"I opened it—why, of course I did. It's from Ninian."

Mrs. Bett held out the opened envelope, the unfolded letter, and a yellowed newspaper clipping.

"See," said the old woman, "says, 'Corrie Waters, music hall singer—married last night to Ninian Deacon—' Say, Lulu, that must be her."

Lulu threw out her hands.

"There!" she cried triumphantly.

"He was married to her, just like he said!"

The Plows were at breakfast next morning when Lulu came in casually at the side door. Yes, she said, she had had breakfast. She merely wanted to see them about something. Then she said nothing, but sat looking with a troubled frown at Jenny. Jenny's hair was about her neck, like the hair of a little girl, a south window poured light upon her, the fruit and honey upon the table seemed her only possible food.

"You look troubled, Lulu," Mrs. Plow said. "Is it about getting work?"

"No," said Lulu, "no. I've been places. I guess the bakery is going to let me make cake."

"I knew it would come to you," Mrs. Plow said, and Lulu thought that this was a strange way to speak, when she herself had gone after the cake. But she kept on looking about the room. It was so bright and quiet. As she came in, Mr. Plow had been reading from a book. Dwight never read from a book at table.

"I wish—" said Lulu, as she looked at them. But she did not know what she wished. Certainly it was for no moral excellence, for she perceived none.

"What is it, Lulu?" Mr. Plow asked, and he was bright and quiet too, Lulu thought.

"Well," said Lulu, "it's not much, but I wanted Jenny to tell me about last night."

"Last night?"

"Yes. Would you—?" Hesitation was her only way of apology. "Where did you go?" She turned to Jenny.

Jenny looked up in her clear and ardent fashion. "We went across the river and carried supper and then we came home."

"What time did you get home?"

"Oh, it was still light. Long before eight, it was."

Lulu hesitated and flushed, asked how long Di and Bobby had stayed there at Jenny's; whereupon she heard that Di had to be home early on account of Mr. Cornish, so that she and Bobby had not stayed at all. To which Lulu said an "of course," but first she stared at Jenny and so impaired the strength of her assertion. Almost at once she rose to go.

"Nothing else?" said Mrs. Plow, catching that look of hers.

Lulu wanted to say: "My husband was married before, just as he said he was." But she said nothing more, and went home. There she put it to Di and, with her terrible bluntness, reviewed to Di the testimony.

"You were not with Jenny after eight o'clock. Where were you?" Lulu spoke formally and her rehearals were evident.

Di said: "When mamma comes home, I'll tell her."

With this Lulu had no idea how to deal, and merely looked at her helplessly. Mrs. Bett, who was facing her shoes, now said casually:

"No need to wait till then. Her and Bobby were out in the side yard sitting in the hammock till all hours."

Di had no answer save her furious flush, and Mrs. Bett went on:

"Didn't I tell you? I knew it before the company left, but I didn't say a word. Think I, 'She wiggles and chatters.' So I left her stay where she was."

"But, mother!" Lulu cried. "You didn't even tell me after he'd gone."

"I forgot it," Mrs. Bett said, "finding Ninian's letter and all—"

Di was bright and alert and firm of flesh and erect before Lulu's softness and laxness.

"I don't know what your mother'll say," said Lulu, "and I don't know what people'll think."

"They won't think Bobby and I are tired of each other, anyway," said Di, and left the room.

Through the day Lulu tried to think what she must do. About Di she was anxious and felt without power. She thought of the indignation of Dwight and Ina that Di had not been more scrupulously guarded. She thought of Di's girlish fury, her irritating independence—"and there," Lulu thought, "just the other day I was teaching her to sew." Her mind dwelt, too, on Dwight's furious anger at the opening of Ninian's letter. But when all this had spent itself, what was she herself to do? She must leave his house before he ordered her to do so, when she told him that she had confided in Cornish, as tell she must. But what was she to do? The bakery cake-making would not give her a roof.

Stepping about the kitchen in her blue cotton gown, her hair tight and flat as seemed proper when one was not dressed, she thought about these things. And it was strange: Lulu bore no physical appearance of one in distress or any anxiety. Her head was erect, her movements were strong and swift, her eyes were interested. She was no drooping Lulu with dragging step. She was more intent, she was somehow more operative than she had ever been.

Mrs. Bett was working contentedly beside her, and now and then humming an air of that music of the night before. The sun surged through the kitchen door and east window, a returned orange swung and fluted on the elm above the gable. Wagons clattered by over the rattling wooden block pavement.

"Ain't it nice with nobody home?" Mrs. Bett remarked at intervals, like the burden of a comic song.

"Hush, mother," Lulu said, troubled, her ethical refinements conflicting with her honesty.

"Speak the truth and shame the devil," Mrs. Bett retorted.

When dinner was ready at noon, Di did not appear. A little earlier Lulu had heard her moving about her room, and she served her in expectation that she would join them.

"Di must be having the 'matrim' this time," she thought, and for a time said nothing. But at length she did say: "Why doesn't Di come? I'd better put her plate in the oven."

Rising to do so, she was arrested by her mother. Mrs. Bett was with a baked potato, holding her fork close to the times, and presenting a profile of passionate absorption.

"Why, Di went off," she said.

"Went off?"

"Down the walk. Down the side walk."

"She must have gone to Jenny's," said Lulu. "I wish she wouldn't do that without telling me."

Monona laughed out and shook her straight hair. "She'll catch it!" she cried in sisterly enjoyment.

It was when Lulu had come back from the kitchen and was seated at the table that Mrs. Bett observed:

"I didn't think Ina'd want her to take her nice new satchel."

"Her satchel?"

"Yes. Ina wouldn't take it north herself, but Di had it."

"Mother," said Lulu, "when Di went away just now, was she carrying a satchel?"

"Didn't I just tell you?" Mrs. Bett demanded, aggrieved. "I said I didn't think Ina—"

"Mother, which way did she go?" Monona pointed with her spoon.

"She went that way," she said. "I seen her."

Lulu looked at the clock. For Monona had pointed toward the railway station. The twelve-thirty train, which every one took to the city for shopping, would be just about leaving.

"Monona," said Lulu, "don't you go out of the yard while I'm gone. Mother, you keep her—"

Lulu ran from the house and up the street. She was in her blue cotton dress, her old shoes; she was hatless and without money. When she was still two or three blocks from the station, she heard the twelve-thirty "pulling out."

She ran badly, her ankles in their low, loose shoes continually turning, her arms held taut at her sides. So she came down the platform, and to the ticket window. The contained ticket man, wanted to lost trains and perturbed faces, yet actually ceased counting when he saw her:

"Lenny! Did Di Deacon take that train?"

"Sure she did," said Lenny.

"And Bobby Larkin?" Lulu asked, nothing for appearance now.

"He went in on the Local," said Lenny, and his eyes widened.

"Where?"

"See?" Lenny thought it through.

"Milton," he said. "Yes, sure. Milton. Both of 'em."

"How long till another train?"

"Well, sir," said the ticket man, "you're in luck, if you was going too. Seventeen was late this morning—she'll be along, jerk of a lamb's tail."

"Then," said Lulu, "you got to give me a ticket to Milton, without me paying till after—and you got to lend me two dollars."

"Sure thing," said Lenny, with a manner of laying the entire railway system at her feet.

"Seventeen" would rather not have stopped at Warbleton, but Lenny's signal was law on the time card, and the magnificent yellow express slowed down for Lulu. Hatless, and in her blue cotton gown, she climbed aboard.

Then her old inefficiency seized upon her. What was she going to do? Milton! She had been there but once, years ago—how could she ever find anybody? Why had she not stayed in Warbleton and asked the sheriff or somebody—no, not the sheriff. Cornish, perhaps. Oh, and Dwight and Ina were going to be angry now! And Di—little Di. As Lulu thought of her she began to cry. She said to herself that she had taught Di to sew.

In sight of Milton, Lulu was seized with trembling and physical nausea. She had never been alone in any unfamiliar town. She put her hands to her hair and for the first time realized her rolled-up sleeves. She was pulling down these sleeves when the conductor came through the train.

"Could you tell me," she said timidly, "the name of the principal hotel in Milton?"

Ninian had asked this as they neared Savannah, Georgia.

The conductor looked curiously at her.

"Why, the Hess house," he said.

"Wasn't you expecting anybody to meet you?" he asked, kindly.

"Go," said Lulu, "but I'm going to find my folks—"

"But my folks—"

"Bents all," thought the conductor, using his utility formula for the universe.

In Milton Lulu's inquiry for the Hess house produced no consternation. Nobody paid any attention to her. She was almost taken to be a new servant there.

"You stop feeling so," she said to herself angrily at the lobby entrance.

"Tried the Parlor?" And Directed Her Kindly and With His Thumb.

"Ain't you been to that big hotel in Savannah, Georgia?"

The Hess house, Milton, had a tradition of its own to maintain. It seemed, and they sent her to the rear basement door. She obeyed meekly, but she lost a good deal of time before she found herself at the end of the office desk. It was still longer before anyone attended her.

"Please, sir!" she burst out. "See if Di Deacon has put her name on your book."

Her appeal was tremendous, compelling. The young clerk listened to her, showed her where to look in the register. When only strange names and strange writing presented themselves there, he said:

"Tried the parlor?"

And directed her kindly and with his thumb, and in the other hand a pen divorced from his ear for the express purpose.

In crossing the lobby in the hotel at Savannah, Georgia, Lulu's most pressing problem had been to know where to look. But now the lobby in the Hess house lobby did not exist. There, in a fat, rose-colored chair, beside a cataract of lace curtain, sat Di, alone.

Lulu entered. She had no idea what to say. When Di looked up, started up, frowned, Lulu felt as if she herself were the culprit. She said the first thing that occurred to her:

"I don't believe mamma'll like your taking her nice satchel."

"Well!" said Di, exactly as if she had been at home. And superadded: "My goodness!" And then cried rudely: "What are you here for?"

"For you," said Lulu. "You—you'd ought not to be here, Di."

"What's that to you?" Di cried.

"Why, Di, you're just a little girl—"

Lulu saw that this was all wrong, and stopped miserably. How was she to go on? "Di," she said, "if you and Bobby want to get married, why not let us get you up a nice wedding at some?" And she saw that this sounded as if she were talking about a tea-party.

"Who said we wanted to be married?"

"Well, he's here."

"Who said he's here?"

"Isn't he?"

Di sprang up. "Aunt Lulu," she said, "you're a funny person to be telling me what to do."

Lulu said, flushing: "I love you just the same as if I was married happy, in a home."

"Well, you aren't!" cried Di cruelly, "and I'm going to do just as I think best."

Lulu thought this over, her look grave and sad. She tried to find something to say. "What do people say to people," she wondered, "when it's like this?"

"Getting married is for your whole life," was all that came to her.

"Yours wasn't," Di flashed at her. Lulu's color deepened, but there seemed to be no resentment in her. She must deal with this right—that was what her manner seemed to say. And how should she deal?

"Di," she cried, "come back with me—and wait till mamma and papa get home."

"That's likely. They say I'm not to be married till I'm twenty-one."

"Well, but how young that is!"

"It is to you."

"Di! This is wrong—it is wrong."

"There's nothing wrong about getting married—if you stay married."

"Well, then it can't be wrong to let them know."

"It isn't. But they'd treat me wrong. They'd make me stay at home. And I won't stay at home—I won't stay there. They act as if I was ten years old."

Abruptly in Lulu's face there came a light of understanding.

"Why, Di," she said, "do you feel that way, too?"

Di missed this. She went on: "I'm grown up. I feel just as grown up as they do. And I'm not allowed to do a thing I feel. I want to be away—I will be away!"

"I know about that part," Lulu said.

She now looked at Di with attention. Was it possible that Di was suffering in the air of that home as she herself suffered? She had not thought of that. There Di had seemed so young, so dependent, so—acquiescent. Here, by herself, waiting for Bobby, in the Hess house at Milton, she was curiously adult. Would she be adult if she were left alone?

"You don't know what it's like," Di cried, "to be hushed up an laughed at and paid no attention to everything you say."

"Don't!" said Lulu. "Don't!"

She was breathing quickly and looking at Di. If this was why Di was leaving home, . . .

"But, Di," she cried, "do you love Bobby Larkin?"

By this Di was embarrassed. "I've got to marry somebody," she said, "and it might as well be him."

"But is it him?"

"Yes, it is," said Di. "But," she added, "I know I could love almost anybody real nice that was nice to me." And this she said, not in her own right, but either she had picked it up somewhere and adopted it, or else the terrible modernity and honesty of her day somehow spoke through her, for its own. But to Lulu it was as if something familiar turned its face to be recognized.

"Di!" she cried.

"It's true. You ought to know that." She waited for a moment.

"You did it," she added. "Mamma said so."

At this onslaught Lulu was stupefied. For she began to perceive its truth.

"I know what I want to do, I guess," Di muttered, as if to try to cover what she had said.

Up to that moment, Lulu had been feeling intensely that she understood Di, but that Di did not know this. Now Lulu felt that she and Di actually shared some unsuspected sisterhood. It was not only that they were both badgered by Dwight. It was more than that. They were two women. And she must make Di know that she understood her.

"Di!" Lulu said, breathing hard, "what you just said is true, I guess. Don't you think I don't know. And now I'm going to tell you—"

She might have poured it all out, claimed her kinship with Di by virtue of that which had happened in Savannah, Georgia. But Di said:

"Here come some ladies. And goodness, look at the way you look!"

Lulu glanced down. "I know," she said, "but I guess you'll have to put up with me."

The two women entered, looked about with the complaisance of those who examine a hotel property, and criticism incumbent, and have no errand. These two women had out-dressed their occasion. In their presence Di kept silence, turned away her head, gave them to know that she had nothing to do with this blue cotton person beside her. When they had gone on, "What do you mean by my having to put up with you?" Di asked sharply.

"I mean I'm going to stay with you."

Di laughed scornfully—she was again the rebellious child. "I guess Bobby'll have something to say about that," she said insolently.

"They left you in my charge."

"But I'm not a baby—the idea, Aunt Lulu!"

"I'm going to stay right with you," said Lulu. She wondered what she should do if Di suddenly marched away from her, through that bright lobby and into the street. She thought miserably that she must follow. And then her whole concern for the ethics of Di's course was lost in her amazement.

And she saw that this sounded as if she were talking about a tea-party.

"Who said we wanted to be married?"

"Well, he's here."

"Who said he's here?"

"Isn't he?"

Di sprang up. "Aunt Lulu," she said, "you're a funny person to be telling me what to do."

Lulu said, flushing: "I love you just the same as if I was married happy, in a home."

"Well, you aren't!" cried Di cruelly, "and I'm going to do just as I think best."

Lulu thought this over, her look grave and sad. She tried to find something to say. "What do people say to people," she wondered, "when it's like this?"

"Getting married is for your whole life," was all that came to her.

Community Sunday School Reopens

The Shawsheen Community Sunday School will hold their first session on Sunday, September 24, at 9:30 o'clock in the Post Office hall.

All children and young people in the Village are invited to attend these classes. The classes close in time for those wishing to attend other church service.

Robert Parks is superintendent of the School and Benjamin Habb assistant. Mrs. George Winalow is chairman of the Sunday School Teachers' Association.

Reception at Manor

A dinner and reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hiscoc at the Shawsheen Manor on Monday evening by the employees of the F. A. Hiscoc store in Lawrence on the occasion of the return of the couple from a trip abroad. Forty-five persons were in attendance at the banquet. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Hiscoc other guests of the evening were: Franklin Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burke of Lowell, Ernest Livsey and Eli Moran.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiscoc were welcomed home by Miss Mary Lacasse in behalf of the store employees. Mr. Hiscoc responded and complimented the clerks for their loyalty during his absence.

Music was furnished by Bardeley's orchestra, community singing was enjoyed and dancing concluded the evening's entertainment.

Among those present were: Margaret Hird, Emma Crompton, Corinne de Lottinville, Minnie McCarthy, Alice Ratcliffe, Helen Adams, Mary Lacasse, Eva Somerset, Rose Carter, Edna Coutts, Allina Lemieux, Margaret Voyer, Della Goyette, Mrs. S. Walsh, Mrs. J. Barry, Mildred Koebuck, Belle Hester, Lillian Fortin, Della Pike, Alice Walsh, Minnie Bosworth, Pauline Grossman, Marion Ouellette, Jennie Roy, Susie Dequatro, Nettie St. Pierre, Clara Lamontagne, Bertha Labonte, Bernadette Cosgrove, Alice St. Peter, Joseph Goulet, Robert Gordon, Edward Charron, and Laurence Grant.

Close Friends

"You bore me," said the cork to the cork.

"Never mind, I have gotten you out of a pretty tight place."

OPEN SHAWSHEEN ALLEYS

First Matches Bowled Monday Evening. Village League Will Bring Out Large Group of Expert Enthusiasts

The recreation facilities at Shawsheen Village continue to keep pace with its development along home building and business lines. The latest addition is the Shawsheen bowling alleys in the basement of the cafeteria building which were opened to the public last Monday evening.

In the construction of this building special attention was given to providing a well lighted and ventilated room for the sport and the result is one of the finest bowling alleys in the country. The alleys, six in number, are the last word in modern construction and the special lighting arrangements add greatly to the pleasure and skill of the game.

Among the residents of the Village are a number of expert bowlers and several leagues are being formed for regular matches during the fall and winter. One of the first team matches to be played was between the yardmen and shopmen of the Brush Factory in the yardmen took all four points.

Ouellette featured, scoring high single with 108 and high triple with 314, going over the century mark in every one of his three strings. The scores:

YARDMEN
I. Piper	84	85	69	258
N. Ouellette	108	105	101	314
W. Stampy	98	74	88	260
P. Belanger	83	93	102	278
F. Robertson	98	104	83	285
471 461 443 1375
SHOPMEN
Traynor	85	87	82	254
Lamontagne	92	86	105	283
Bergeron	88	76	71	235
Carter	71	82	87	240
Dejoyer	88	98	86	272
424 421 431 1174

Since the opening on Monday night, which was attended by Mr. William M. Wood, the alleys have been busy every evening and from all appearances the Shawsheen Alleys promise to be a most popular community center.

The alleys will be under the direction of Mr. Joseph DeAcutis, manager of the Cafeteria.

Wedding

PETERS—BURNS

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Grace Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Burns of 6 Dumbarton street, became the bride of Harold L. Peters of 40 Lawrence street, Lawrence.

The Rev. Albert Willis Jefferson, D.D., pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, officiated using the double ring service and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Blanche Pierce played the wedding march.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and white dahlias and the home was tastefully decorated with evergreen and flowers.

The bride's gown was of white satin combined with silver lace and her veil was arranged with silver lace and ribbon streamers bearing orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth Collins, wore a gown of white embroidered cotton crepe with trimmings of peach color and her flowers were Ophiopeltis roses.

Dean Burns, brother of the bride, was the best man and Malcolm Burns, was the ring bearer. Frank Green was usher.

After the ceremony a reception was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Peters who after their wedding trip to New York City will live on Byron Avenue, Lawrence.

JOHN J. DEACY, M.D.

Physician and Surgeon
Balmoral Spa Building
SHAWSHEEN VILLAGE, ANDOVER, MASS.

DR. N. STOWERS

Dentist
BALMORAL BLDG.,
SHAWSHEEN VILLAGE
ANDOVER, MASS.
Telephone - - - - - Andover 154

12 YEARS STOMACH TROUBLE STOPPED

"I suffered for 12 years with stomach trouble. Never saw a moment's relief until I tried Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules. They are more than equal to their name. They proved absolutely satisfactory," writes Henry Kirchner of Concord, Staten Island, N. Y. Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules give prompt and certain relief from distress. They remove the danger of gas around the heart due to acute or chronic indigestion, dyspepsia, acid stomach and constipation.

On sale at W. C. Crowley's, Andover, Mass., or 60 cents by mail postpaid for large package from Jacques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.

Balmoral Hairdressing Parlor

MARGARET M. McLAY, PROP.
Shampooing, Manicuring, Marcel Waving
Facial and Scalp Treatment
Telephone 81
SHAWSHEEN VILLAGE
ROOM 5
BALMORAL BUILDING

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gernier have recently moved to 20 Emmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. West and family have moved to 30 Emmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nault have moved to 33 Emmore street from Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips of Lawrence have moved to 17 Emmore street.

Mrs. Ada Mason and children have moved from Haverhill street to 16 Emmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Curtin and family of Lawrence have moved to 34 Emmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kemp and family have moved to 18 Emmore street from Lawrence.

The MacNulty family of York street have returned to their home after spending the summer at Hampton Beach.

Joseph Traynor of Caribrook street and Thomas Taylor of North Main street are on a trip through New Hampshire.

Miss Alice Sirois of Lynn and Miss Dorothy Twomey of Dorchester spent the week end with Mrs. Mary M. Sirois of Dumbarton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Walker and family of Haverhill street have moved to South Lawrence while their house is being relocated.

Food Sale and Dance Today

All is in readiness for the Food Sale and Dance to be given under the direction of the Shawsheen Village Women's Club today. The Food Sale will be held in the afternoon from 2 to 5 on the terrace directly in the rear of the Balmoral Spa.

Dancing will be in the evening and will be out of doors, weather permitting; otherwise it will be in Balmoral Hall.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XLIV.—UTAH

THE first white excursion into Utah dates back to 1840 when a party of Spaniards sent out by Coronado succeeded in penetrating to the Colorado river. There is no authentic record of further explorations until over 200 years had elapsed. In 1776 two Franciscan friars, in their attempt to find the shortest way to the Pacific, went from Santa Fe to Utah Lake. The Great Salt Lake, however, was not discovered until 1824, when James Bridges, a trapper, in wandering through this region came upon this huge, inland, salt sea.

But the real history of Utah begins with the rise of Mormon power there. Discouraged by the agitation in Illinois and Missouri, the Mormons decided to emigrate to the great West. In large caravans they traveled across the plains and in 1847 came to Salt Lake City where they settled. Here they flourished, increasing their numbers and by 1852 they reached a total in this vicinity of over 15,000. Meanwhile, in 1848, by the terms of the treaty of peace with Mexico, a huge western tract, of which Utah was a part, was ceded to the United States. As no definite government was arranged for the control of affairs locally was for a number of years entirely in the hands of the officers of the Mormon church. They, accordingly, made up a constitution and organized under the name of the State of Deseret. This is a word taken from the Book of Mormon, and signifies, "Industry." Application was made for admission to the Union, but this was refused and the federal government instead organized the Territory of Utah in 1850. The first governor was Brigham Young, the successor of Joseph Smith and president of the Mormon church.

The attempt to do away with polygamy met with little success until in 1890 the Mormon church finally agreed not to countenance it. Meanwhile, growing antagonism between the Mormons and non-Mormons verged nearly on civil war. Finally a general amnesty was declared and after many requests Utah was accepted as the forty-fifth state of the Union in 1896.

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

SHAWSHEEN BOWLERS LOSE

Local Team Goes Down Before Boston 20-19 in Most Exciting Match Seen on Franklin Field for Years

Last Saturday at Franklin Field, Boston, in what was easily the best and most exciting game of lawn bowling seen for a number of years the Shawsheen Village team was defeated by the Boston team in the final by the score of 20-19.

Earlier in the day the Villagers had defeated the strong teams from Brockton by 27-14 and Fall River 24-18.

The Villagers trailed the Boston team until the fifteenth end when they took the lead by grand team play, the score at this stage being 16-15 in favor of Shawsheen. From this point the game was very exciting and each shot was greeted with cheers from the huge gallery present.

Shawsheen kept their lead until the twentieth end when the score stood tie 19 each.

The 21st or last end was the memorable one. Shawsheen were lying two shots when the Boston skip with a great drive drove the "Jack" into adjoining rink thereby causing this end to be played over. This was certainly hard on Shawsheen. On the reply, however, they all played like heroes only to have victory snatched away by the last bowl of the Boston skip who drew a grand shot and this end was declared a tie.

The excitement was now intense for the large gallery was pulling for a win for Shawsheen to their first play. Playing the 21st end for the third time Shawsheen again were lying two shots. But the Boston skip drove this time with success, and when the shots were measured Boston was two inches from the "Jack" and Shawsheen 21-18 and so ended the most exciting game seen on Franklin Field for years.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Congratulations are certainly due Skip Jamieson of the locals for his masterly handling of the game. Some of the Boston fans say he is the finest skip in New England.

"Dad" Skea soon took the eye and had some magnificent shots.

The New England bowling fans realize that Shawsheen will have to be reckoned with great respect in the future.

Tennis Tournament Progresses Slowly

There are still several matches to be played in the first round of the Shawsheen Civic Association tennis tournament. The matches are arousing a great deal of interest and the results of many of them have been surprising.

The men's doubles have reached the second round and in the lower half Pratt and McGrath beat Simmers and Harig 6-3, 6-1. In the mixed doubles Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Paine won over Mrs. Donald and D. Bloomberg by the score of 4-6, 6-1, 6-2 and Miss Gordon and H. S. Pratt won over Mr. and Mrs. L. Little by default.

One match in the second round of the men's singles has been played between S. S. Paine and Charles Ide, Paine winning 5-7, 8-6, 6-3.

The results in the men's singles to date are: H. A. Davis, H. S. Pratt; Pratt, 6-0, 6-1. Stowers, Blades; Blades, 6-4, 6-3. W. H. Cady, B. Harig; Cady, 6-3, 6-3. E. Lawson, William McGrath; McGrath, 6-0, 6-1.

S. Paine, F. H. Hardy; S. Paine, 6-3, 6-1. K. Hardy, Charles Ide; C. Ide, 7-5, 6-1.

The Welsbach Burner

Until about thirty-five years ago gas lighting was produced entirely by open flame burners, in which the illumination is given by particles of glowing carbon which separate in the flame. During this period "the candle power standard" of rating gas came into use. This was entirely proper when the gas was used mainly for open flame lighting. However, it is the heating power of gas which is used nowadays, both in gas stoves and mantle burners, and gradually the "candle power standard" is being given up in favor of the B. T. U., or heating standard. The B. T. U. is a definite quantity of heat, as the human is of light.

In 1852 a discovery was made which was of the greatest importance to the gas industry. This was the discovery of the blue flame gas burner by Professor Bunsen—the so-called Bunsen burner. The Bunsen burner, and the discovery of blue water gas, a little later, set inventors to dreaming of some better method of producing light than by the open flame. One method evolved, and which was used for a long time for stage lighting and projection work, was the "limelight," in which a piece of lime was heated to brilliant incandescence by an oxyhydrogen flame. Today the term "limelight" survives only as a figure of speech.

A Frenchman named Gildard invented a mantle made of fine platinum wires, but the candle power was too low to make it a commercial success. Langren, an American, in 1881 developed a moulded mantle made of magnesia, lime, and zirconia, for which he was awarded a medal by the Franklin Institute.

The first step toward a successful mantle light was made in 1886 by Carl Auer, an Austrian student, twenty-two years old, and working in Bunsen's laboratory in Heidelberg. He produced a mantle which was put on the market in 1888 but which met with little success. So he started to work on the same subject again and finally put a mantle on the market in 1893 which was an immediate success. With a ratio of 99 per cent thoria and 1 per cent ceria he had obtained a most brilliant light.

The public could not afford to ignore a device which gave six times the light of the open flame, and the use of these mantles became universal throughout the world. In recognition of his great work the inventor was given the title "von Welsbach."

All Up

The presiding officer at a Washington banquet recently introduced an innovation that will be appreciated by all baseball fans who have learned to practice and reverence as an attraction.

No doubt the banqueters enjoyed the surprise.

There had been two or three rather long-winded speeches following a somewhat Georgian feast. The company had, in consequence, been seated continuously for more than two hours. Suddenly rising as if to announce the next speaker, the presiding officer rejoiced all hearts by saying: "Gentlemen, it's the seventh inning. Let's stretch!"—Judge.

The waiter—We have some nice braised ox tails and some fine boiled beef tongue today, sir.

The customer—In spite of the high cost you manage to make both ends meet.

Changes in the Soccer Schedule

Delay in having some of the grounds ready has caused various upsets in the opening of the new season of the Northern Massachusetts and New Hampshire Soccer League and made necessary a revision of the schedule already announced. Secretary John Haggas has completed the revised schedule, which is given here and which is the one which will rule throughout the season.

Last Saturday was the scheduled opening day of the league season, but ground delay made it possible only to play the Abbot Worsted and Massachusetts Cotton game. The complete schedule is here given and the games which were not played last Saturday will go down as postponed games to be played later.

On Saturday, September 23, the American Woolen will play the Shawsheen team on the Shawsheen Village grounds, with Fore River and Abbot Worsted game at Quincy. Vernon Dobson will referee the Arlington-Methuen game on the Arlington grounds. Pat Darcy was scheduled to handle the Massachusetts Cotton-General Electric game, but it will have to be postponed to a later date on account of the grounds.

The revised schedule is here given, with the games being played on the home grounds of the first-named team. The American Woolen and Shawsheen clubs have the same home grounds, Shawsheen Village. This schedule is for the first half of the season. The schedule for the second half is a repetition of this schedule, with the playing grounds reversed.

The schedule follows:

September 16—Fore River vs. American Woolen; Abbot Worsted vs. Massachusetts Cotton; Shawsheen vs. Methuen; Arlington Mills vs. General Electric United.

September 23—American Woolen vs. Shawsheen; Fore River vs. Abbot Worsted; Massachusetts Cotton vs. General Electric; Arlington vs. Methuen.

September 30—Methuen vs. Fore River; Shawsheen vs. Arlington Mills; Massachusetts Cotton vs. American Woolen; Abbot Worsted vs. General Electric.

October 7—American Woolen vs. Methuen; Arlington Mills vs. Abbot Worsted; Fore River vs. Massachusetts Cotton; General Electric vs. Shawsheen.

October 12—International game.

October 14—Methuen vs. General Electric; Shawsheen vs. Massachusetts Cotton; Abbot Worsted vs. American Woolen; Fore River vs. Arlington Mills.

October 21—Arlington Mills vs. American Woolen; Massachusetts Cotton vs. Methuen; Shawsheen vs. Abbot Worsted.

October 28—General Electric vs. Fore River; Massachusetts Cotton vs. Arlington; Fore River vs. Shawsheen; Methuen vs. Abbot Worsted.

Radio Aids the Farmer

More than 1000 horses direct from North Dakota farms will probably be marketed in New England within a year through the cooperative plan adopted by the farm bureau federations. The Massachusetts Farm Bureau Federation is already in communication with the North Dakota farmers, and plans are being made to double the sales of last year, at least.

The plan of direct dealing between the farmer of the West and the farmer of New England resulted in the saving of thousands of dollars and in greater satisfaction to both groups of farmers. Through their business organization, the Farm Bureau, they were able to come together to their mutual advantage.

About 500 horses were sold in this way last spring in New England at the horse auctions conducted under the auspices of the county farm bureaus. This direct method of dealing eliminates on the average the commissions of four horse buyers or dealers. There is also a material saving due to the speed with which these horses can be transferred from the western farm to the New England farm. The actual transportation costs must be paid in both cases, but under the direct sales method, the expensive hauling of horses in stables results in the saving of a large value of each horse.

Through direct to the farm bureaus, and the auction is held immediately on their arrival. Any unsold animals will be immediately taken to farms and put to work.

Greater satisfaction to both groups of farmers also comes from the fact that the farm bureaus stand back of the horses in every way. Due to unusual sanitary precautions, hardly a single horse shipped in 1921 developed distemper. The North Dakota Farm Bureau sees that all horses shipped are as represented, and the New England Farm Bureau accept them on the guarantee of the western organization. The various buyers, dealers and commission horsemen which ordinarily come in between the western and the eastern farmer have no opportunity to misrepresent, intentionally or otherwise, the actual value of each horse offered for sale. Plans are being made to ship 35 carloads of horses at least. Massachusetts will have its full share of them.

The Massachusetts Farm Bureau Federation is urging its members to make a greater use of the market news service now being disseminated by radio. The Federation has been a staunch backer of this modern form of market reporting service since its start and will do all it can to increase its usefulness. It is working in close touch with the Division of Markets of the State Department of Agriculture in developing the service.

The Federation is informing its members that the Medford Hillside station (WG1) is now broadcasting on 485 meters the daily report of conditions on the Boston Farmer's Produce Market, together with the carloads of fruits and vegetables reported at Edgemoor, Del., for shipment to Boston. This broadcast will be made daily at 1:30 P. M. In addition to this produce market report, the Boston wholesale market review, issued by the State Bureau of Agricultural Economics, will be given. This review includes a report on Boston wholesale fruits and vegetables, dairy and poultry products, the meat market and, on Wednesday, the Brighton live stock market. This is broadcast at 6:00 P. M. On Saturdays, the market report is supplemented by a broadcast of New England crop conditions issued by V. A. Sanders, Wakefield, U. S. crop statistician for New England. Market news is also being sent out by radio from Worcester and from Springfield.

Tenant Farmers' Toast

At the close of the shooting season the keepers and beaters of some estates look forward to the game supper which crowns their labors.

On one ducal estate the story is told of a tenant farmer who was called upon at such a feast to propose the toast of the evening in honor of the estate's owner. But words failed him. After a painful pause he broke out with, "Damme! I'd as lief be shot by him as any one!" with which unique compliment his speech began and ended.—London Mail.

Why Hoover Sent Corn to Russia.

Someone asked Mr. Hoover recently why he sent corn to Russia instead of wheat. "Because," replied the secretary of commerce without a moment's hesitation, "for one dollar I can buy so many calories"—carrying it out to the third decimal place—"in corn, and only so many"—again to the third decimal place—"in wheat. I get about twice as many in corn as in wheat."—From "Behind the Mirrors."

MIGHT BE MONARCH OR CAT

Officials of Spanish Royal Palace Careful in Their Investigation of Sounds at Night

One day, so the story goes, a member of the royal household of Madrid heard noises below. He rose and went downstairs.

"It must be the cat," he thought, though as a rule the cat was not permitted to wander about the place at its discretion. They must have forgotten to lock it up. Suppose it should wake the king!

Fearful thought! Conceal the royal anger! The official hurried through the dark passages, and at last tracked the sound to the pantry.

"Aha—now I've got you!" he whispered, as he opened the door—and beheld the king rummaging around for food!

If the above story is not true, it is at least founded on fact, for the king of Spain sometimes feels hungry in the middle of the night, and when the pangs become poignant, he seeks royal biscuits, as you or I would seek the humble biscuit. Going into the royal pantry, he will tear off the leg of a cold fowl, or quietly carve himself a slice of meat.

"We never know," said an official who figures in the story, "whether it is the cat or the king!"—London Answers.

RECEIVED DOLE FROM ENEMY

Irish Irregulars Stopped in the Middle of Fighting to Draw Their Unemployment Pay.

For several years the unemployed in Ireland, as in Britain, have been receiving a government dole weekly, relates Niall Ronan in the Outlook. The provisional government has continued this. Despite the difficulties of distributing it during the recent trouble, it was very anxious that it should not be stopped, lest any excuse should be given for looting.

One of the district officers was therefore opened—not more than 25 yards from Moran's hotel, an irregular stronghold, now destroyed. After several hundred men had quietly entered, undiscovered by the rifle fire from the national and rebel forces outside, and signed for and received their money, seven republicans came calmly across from the hotel, showed that they were entitled to payment, were paid, and returned to their duties as enemy soldiers in the government whose money lay in their pockets.

Crowding Insects.

Man, calling himself the master of nature, may yet be involved in a life-and-death struggle with insects for possession of the globe—and in some ways scientists declare insects are better fitted than men for survival on earth. Baked beans at a dollar a portion! Is the plebeian bean to be driven from its present democratic company into the ranks of the aristocracy? This possibility is suggested by the recent invasion of the southern portion of the United States by the Mexican bean beetle, a bandit pest of the first magnitude that now has gained a firm foothold and is already at work in a limited territory, undermining natural resources with such telling effect that the final outcome is a matter of grave concern. Beans of all kinds are being attacked by this bandit—a kind of ladybug—and entire crops are being wiped out.

That Word "Hysteria."

There is a lot of scientific truth pertaining to the physical nature of woman, concealed in the word hysteria. The classic origin of the word is the ancient Greek "hysteria," the womb. The sexual or mother nature of woman is indicated in the word as the origin of the laughter, the tears and the contradictory conduct implied by the word hysteria.

When a man is called "hysterical" therefore, the implication is plainly conveyed that he is acting under the impulses sometimes extremely annoying in a woman, but not permissible in a person of the male persuasion.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Bad Teeth as a Racial Trait.

Do poor teeth run in races? According to a report made by Dr. A. W. Schoenleber of the medical department of the Standard Oil company to the Eugenic Research association there is a racial difference in resistance to dental decay as shown by an examination of 2,768 men of various nationalities.

The gleaming whiteness of the Negro's teeth is not just contrast with his black skin, these figures show, as the greatest proportion of perfect teeth was found among the Afro-Americans. The Polish and Austrian Jews showed the next highest percentage of excellent teeth, while English, German, Danish, Norwegian and Swedish subjects showed very feeble resistance to decay. The Irish had the worst teeth of all.